Foreword

The crazy, hazy days of summer have long since vanished into yesterdays. The ruddy face of winter with all its cares and joys is but a memory. Now the fresh breath of spring is finally upon us, enveloping us with dreamy thoughts of the years to come. As we turn the pages of the 1965 Falcon, we remember our successes and failures of this school year, 1964-1965. Our story lies here, before you with all the needed rapture and intensity. No matter where we are scattered, we will always posess a strong bond with FCHS. Regardless of what we become, we will always remain the same on these pages. This mirrored reflection can but revive our hopes, fears, faith, and doubts. This is our annual.

At our high school, each language student is given the opportunity to train his skills and ability with the use of tapes, records, and expert teaching. Since we are conscious of being transferred any day, each of us realizes the necessity of knowing at least one foreign language. Thus, through a good teacher-student relationship, many FCHS students have succeeded in becoming quite proficient!

Just over a thin line, lies our talents in music! Under the supervision of Mr. Williams, our band is striving to perfect its appeal to the human ear! We sincerely wish them all the luck in this world!

Mingled with all this HARD work is an atmosphere filled with school sports—one of which is basketball. The yells of our "Pep Club" and student body fill the gym with hoarse screams. Each player feels the pressure as each minute slowly ticks away. As the suspense builds, we pray for a miracle or give thanks for a VICTORY.

Peck, peck, peck—this diligent sound seems to seep into the very walls of FCHS. The typing students know that it takes a lot of hard work and continual practice to achieve a satisfactory speed in this course. Under the steadfast guidance of Mrs. Jones the students are able to receive the very best of instruction.

Some mysterious worker beats out an intricate design for a young lady's bag in leather crafts. Many students are given the opportunity to create high quality produce through their own efforts.

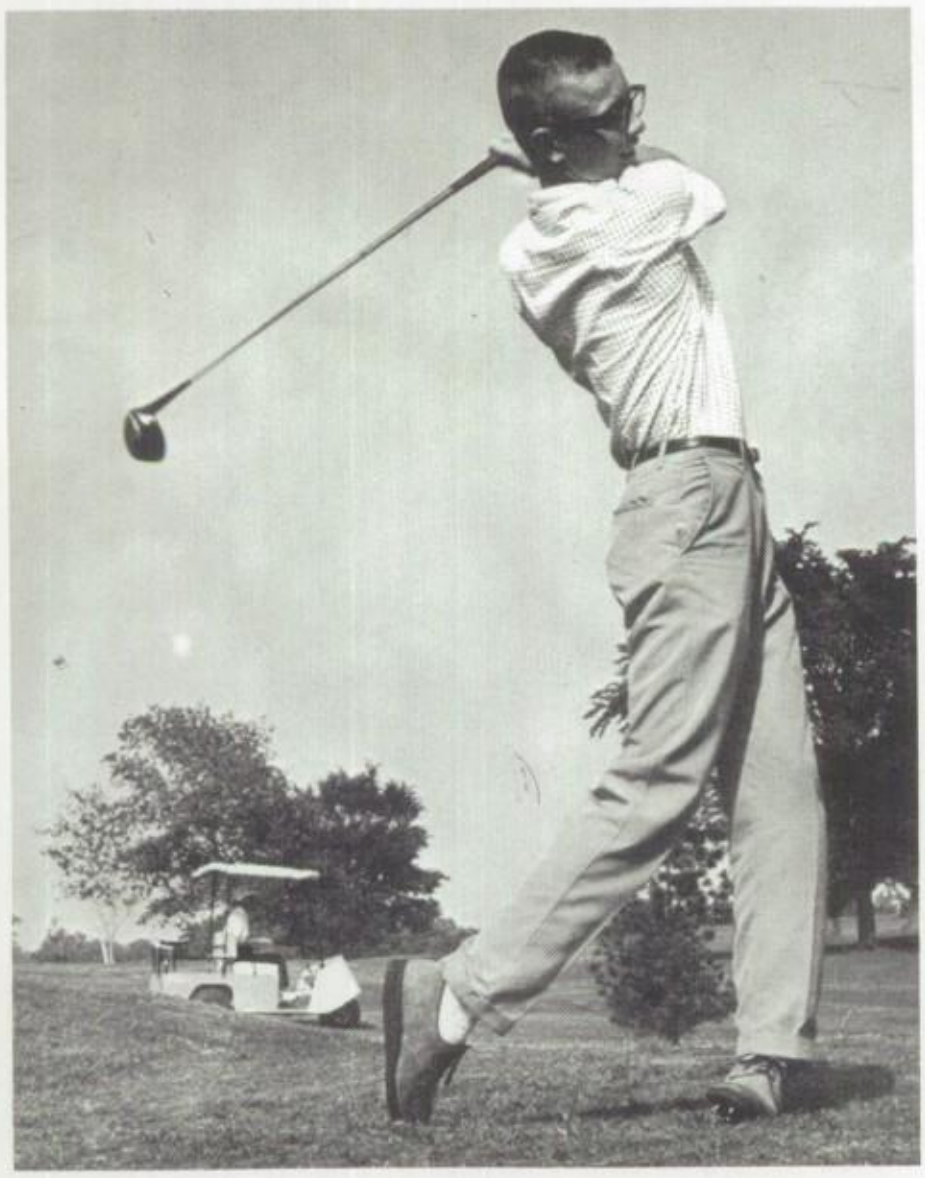
Each school is marked by the success of its perky, vivacious cheering squad. These bouncing girls, numbering a total of eight, cheer the "Falcons" on to victory. They promote school spirit and instill the highest degree of good behavior. Each cheerleader works hard to maintain a high standard of morals, speech, and dress. Through their example, an unwritten "Teen Code" exists and is followed by the majority of FCHS students.

Hold your noses and take a deep breath!—It's time for a Biology I lab! Today we find the beaming Mrs. P. Martin helping one of her "lovely's" to dissect a "Pisces" (more commonly known as a FISH). During the study of biology, each student learns to value the living more and develops an awareness of all life's processes. To fully understand the workings of the body is the goal of each biology student. This is accomplished with such a teacher as Mrs. Martin.

$C^2=A^2+B^2$!! After many months of concentrated study, these industrious math students may claim at least a small portion of the knowledge that the earlier Greeks had so fully realized. With the accelerated SMSG programs, a challenge is presented to each student. Study, guidance, and a full understanding of a problem bring ultimate satisfaction.

One of our newly founded traditions centers around our yearly "Powder Puff" football game in which the junior girls challenge the "Mighty" seniors. Here we see a typical after-school practice with our renowned coaches. "Yea!—Yea!—Yea!" Center, Gerry Giles, snaps the football as "Fleetfoot," Pat Barlett, staggers forward to start one of our many successful plays!!

Now here's a sport that we don't usually hear from—GOLF! We wonder how many of the student body have even given a thought to our golf team? Golf takes a great deal of concentration and drive, and our boys are always ready to give it the old FCHS try!! This year's senior, Ron Bailey, demonstrates his ability and skill for our cameraman.



Being a military school, we can expect large numbers of transfer students each quarter. Here are just a few new faces which have helped to brighten the halls of FCHS. They have brought new traditions, ideas, and pride to the student body. In the Armed Forces, we realize the necessity of fitting into all kinds of enviroments and must, therefore, adopt correct attitudes and philosophies.

Remember October and our Homecoming parade! Here we see four charming faces from the Class of '65. Our car caravan was smashing and brought untold joy to everyone. Each participating car was decorated during the wee hours of that hectic Saturday morning. Sunday brought untold headaches!!

Bobby,
We've had some great fun this year, haven't we. I'll never forget Mrs. Weinstein's first period class!
You really helped us out a lot this year on the annual. We could not have done the Homecoming pages without your help. And Skipper's. Don't you think it paid off.
We enjoyed knowing you. Have this year. Don't work too hard this summer. Keep it. See me. Great luck next year.
Love ya.

A. C. FLORA HIGH SCHOOL

COLUMBIA, SOUTH CAROLINA

Here we see our dynamic Falcons practicing during the hot summer months. Paul Lampru and John Bianchini run through a few practice plays with Attucks High.

This is an air from the prom last year. The theme—"Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White," can be seen in the background. Bill Sunday with his date, Kathy Duco, and Mary Fenig with Duane Allen are seriously engaged in each other. This romantic night wove a magic web that will never be forgotten.

These are members of the Dramatics Club as they try to drill into their peon minds a few lines from "Great Caesar's Ghost."

Here are a few of the members of the "Buzzard" cheering squad during one of their routines. These over-aged teenagers are again experiencing their second childhood and paid for their childishness with bruises and aches and pains for a whole week afterwards. Their flashy orange bows and short black skirts remind us of something left over from Halloween.

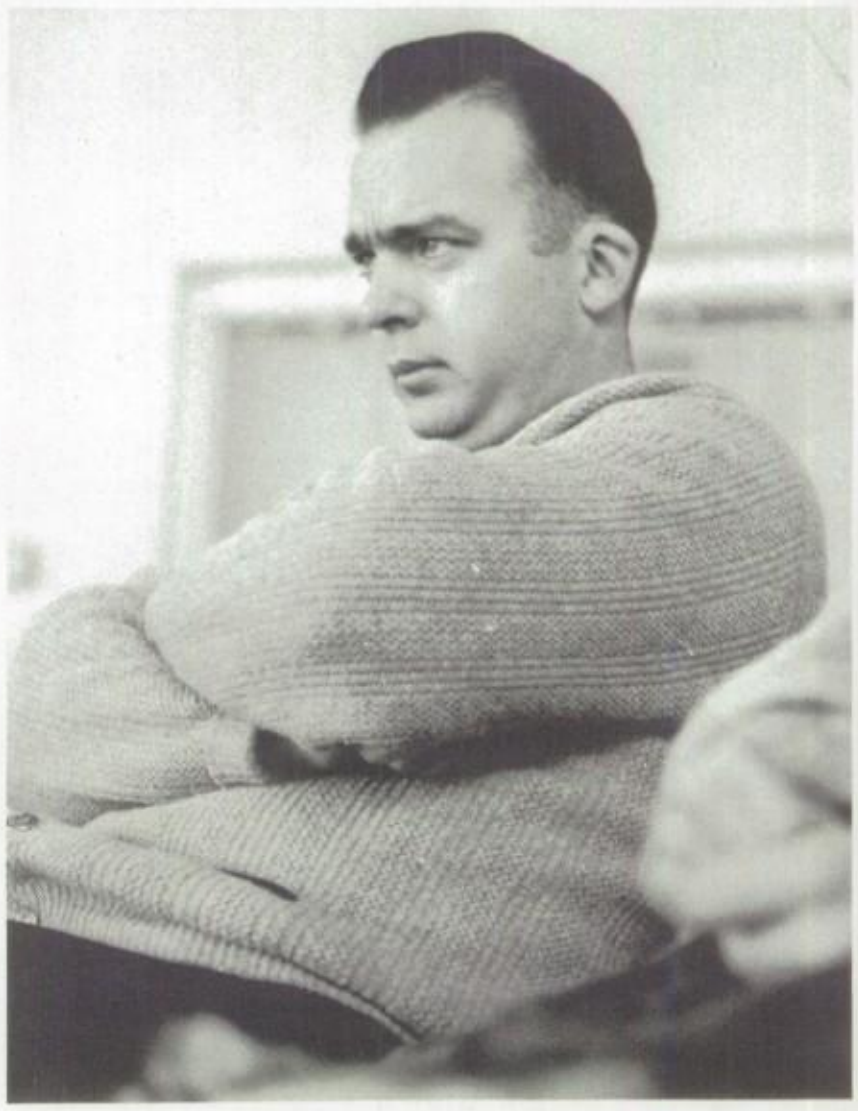
Dedication

Firm, definite, and indispensable are just a few of the fine attributes which we must contribute to our life long friend Mr. Buck. This senior advisor is actually a magician who stops short of nothing but successful perfection. Many think of a t e a c h e r as merely being an instructor or e d u c a t o r, but to us Mr. Buck is a warm human who cares more for solving our personal problems than relaxing in the teacher's lounge. What pushes a man like Mr. Buck? What m a k e s him tick? The answer is really quite simple—he cares! He works continually for the betterment of our s c h o o l and students. Who works at all the football and basketball games—Mr. Buck, who is always digging up money for the annual, Key Club, and all poor people who need help—Mr. Buck, who wears out the telephone fighting for school activities—yes, it's Mr. Buck. No matter where you stray in the school, you are very likely to see the effects of Mr. Buck and his shop boys. In every nook and corner his gaze penetrates the hand-holders and gum-chewers. His h e a r t y laugh and "Let me tell you what" instill long-lasting friendliness between students and teachers. His decided moods and firm actions lend to his personality and appeal!!



The intense feeling of our senior sponsor, Mr. Buck, has helped him to gain each student's admiration. Mr. Buck lives in Clarksville and obtained his t e a c h i n g degree from Austin Peay State College. This versatile man has t a u g h t mathematics, and is now instructing classes in shop and drafting. His leadership and guidance in our high school have resulted in prestige, gratitude, and respect.

DEDICATION

"But you can't tow my car off—I've got a car-pool to take home!" "Are you sure you haven't found my sneakers?" "But I didn't mean to mix sodium and water!" "Yes, I was sick, really, I was home sick in bed . . ." Such statements and questions are daily addressed to one of the persons most essential to Flora—Mr. Thomas Stokes. His gentle but authoritative presence is something which every student would greatly miss should it be removed.

Known to all students as "Uncle Tom," Mr. Stokes bustles between his duties as a chemistry teacher, Head Teacher, and Traffic Chairman. It is hardly possible to run the course of education at Flora without coming in contact with Mr. Stokes at some time. A request is made and one receives a stern answer that startles an inner sense, until one looks longer to find a twinkle in his eye.

No matter what the time or the situation, "Uncle Tom" can be found lifting the pressures and burdens of school life from a student's shoulders with a joke, a smile, and a helping hand. Mr. Stokes fits this category incomparably.

Without him Flora's precise sense of coordination would soon become unbalanced and unmanageable. It is for this reason and many more that we, the FALCON staff dedicate the 1965 FALCON to—Mr. Thomas Winfield Stokes.

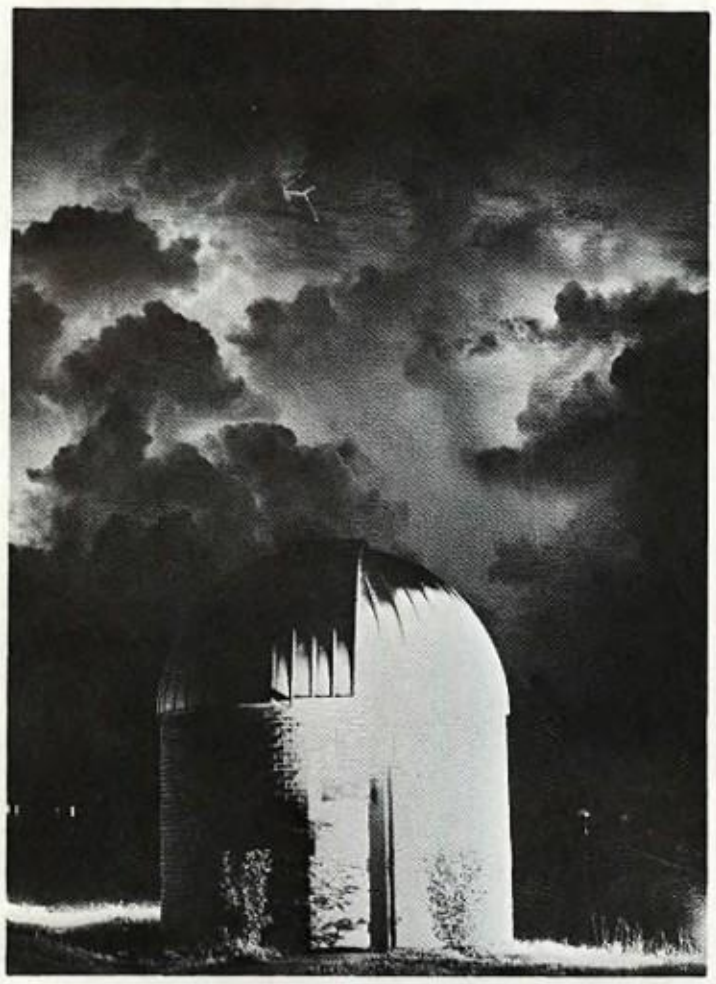
SENIORS

Senior Officers

This year's senior officers are: President, John Bianchini; Vice-President, Don Hutchinson; Secretary, Kit Halderman; Vance Davis, Treasurer.

A school—such an ordinary thing, an everyday word, a seemingly simple and common part of life. Yet so intricate is its internal composition—not just a building, nor a faculty, nor simply a student body.



Visualize a kaleidoscope—a pattern of tiny bits of color in all sizes and shapes—each different from the other. When separate, each piece stands harsh and lonely as if it has no purpose to perform, no beauty, no interest. Yet, gather these solitary bits, arrange them in a pattern, and a picture of harmony appears.

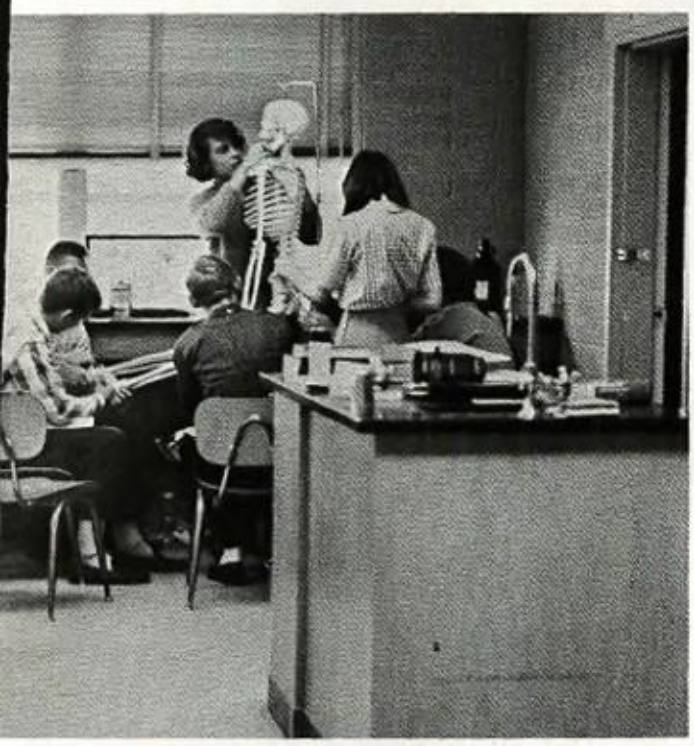
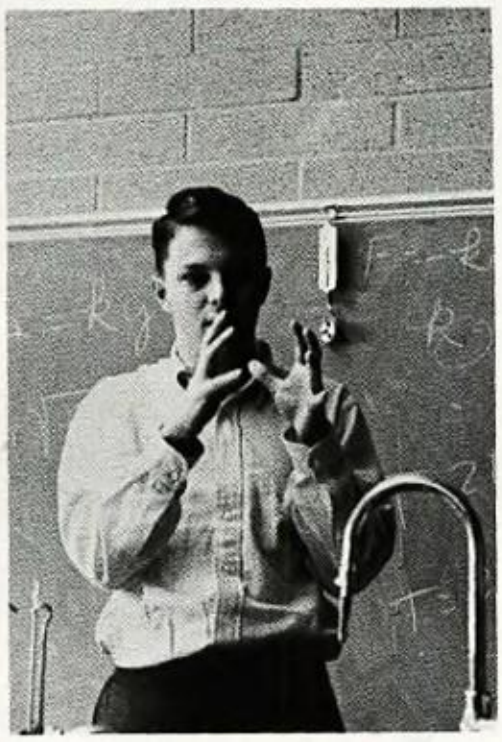
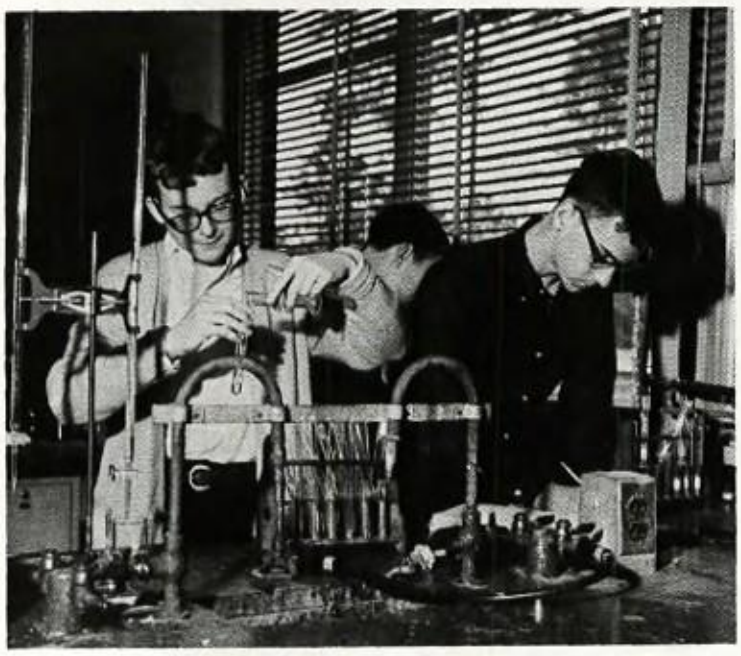
When assembled, each piece shares a little of its hue to enhance and complement the colors around it. They blend to project a more meaningful image of completeness. Each piece has a relationship to another—not even the smallest can be unnoticeably removed; for so dismembered, the picture loses its balance and beauty.







Our school is a kaleidoscope—a never ending but ever blending array of students, teachers, books, classes, organizations, tests, grades—all blending to create harmony, balance, and most important, function. Each part is essential to the whole, and no one part rises above the others.

Each person is a part of the kaleidoscope—Like the many varied colors of a kaleidoscope, each teacher, each student is different. His appearance, his beliefs, his life aims are infinitely varied, never to be entirely duplicated—this is the way we were created. Yet, put these pieces of personality together, and the whole person emerges as a unit which becomes a vital part of a school.

When we walk to the campus in the early morning mist, we unite in an ultimate purpose. We come here to learn of others . . . to learn about ourselves. Sharing wisdom, friendship, and love, we seek the knowledge of life.

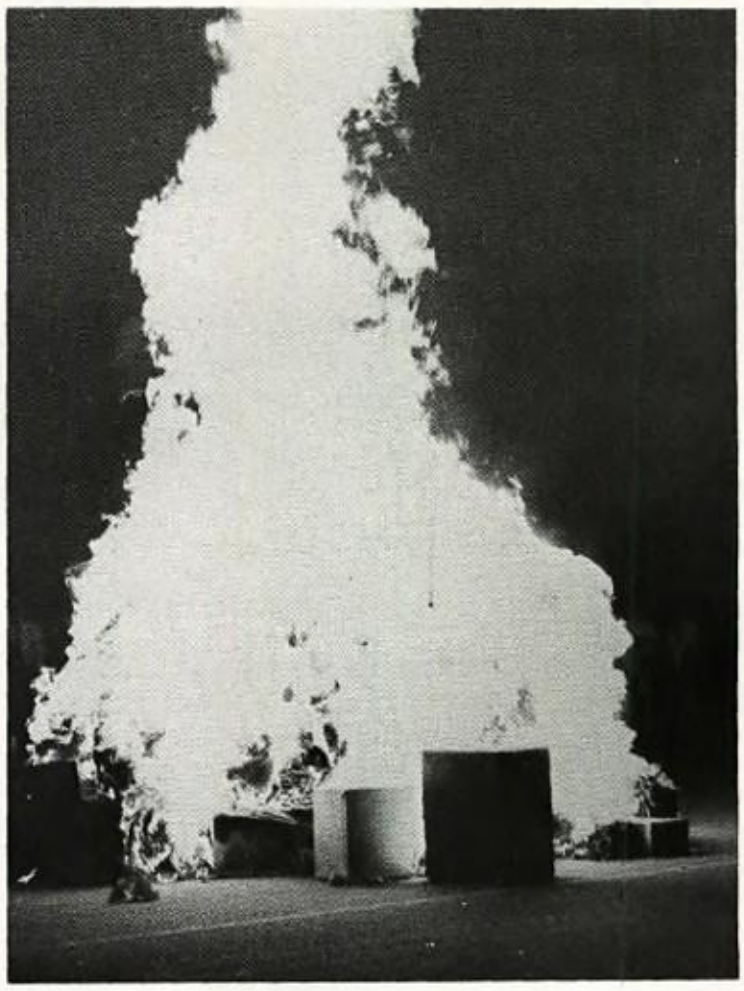
SENIOR AGONY!!

Each year the scene shifts, and new facets produce a new focus; but never is the purpose of each piece forgotten. The meaning of this great cohesion lives through the existence and necessity of each piece in the pattern.

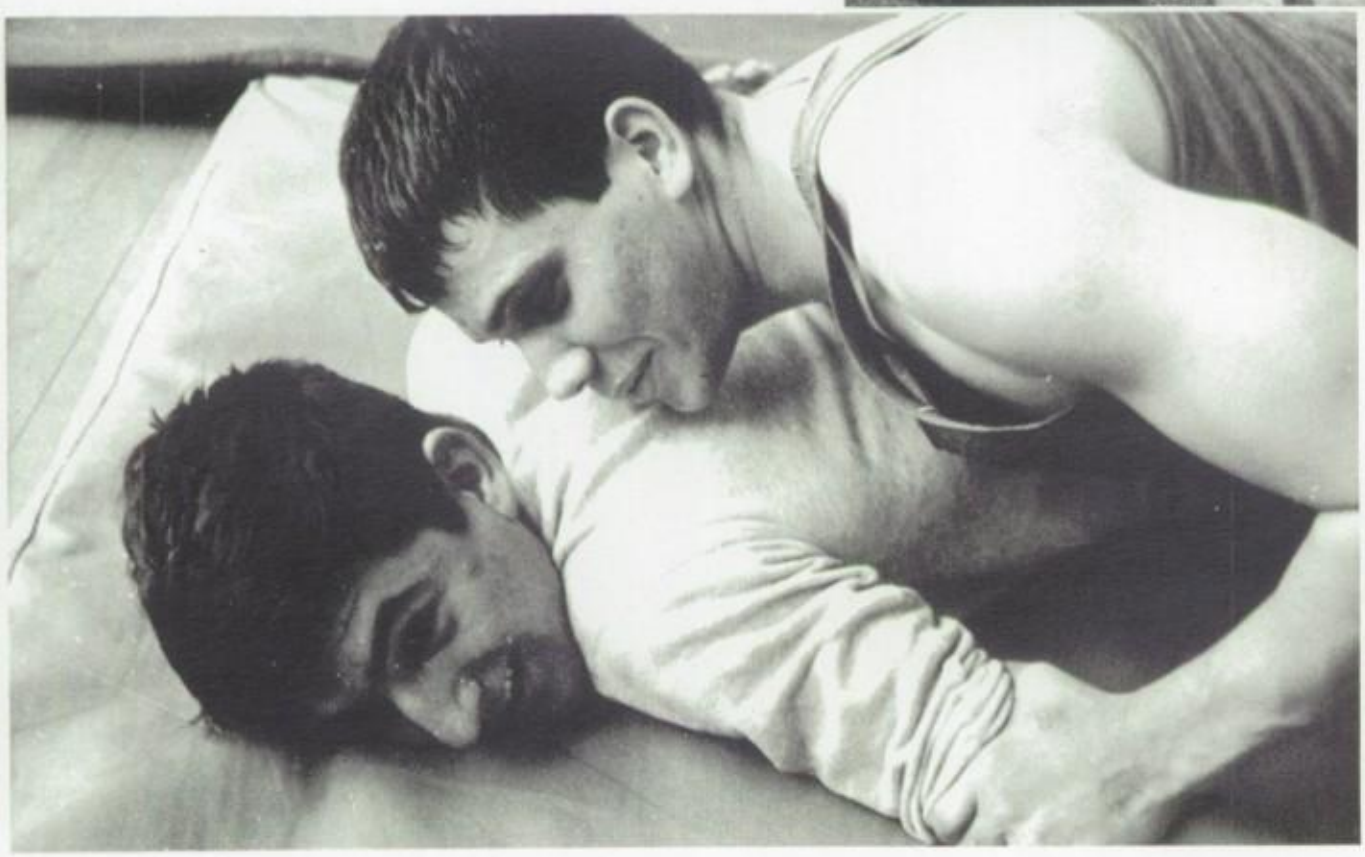


Ours is a symmetrically complete school . . . a kaleidoscope of activity.

Class of 1965

"Say whiskey and smile?!?!—Cause we're the Rocket Reckers of Rawlins!"

"Who do you think you are by taking my picture!?"



"The muscle in my arm is too bigger than the muscle in my head!"

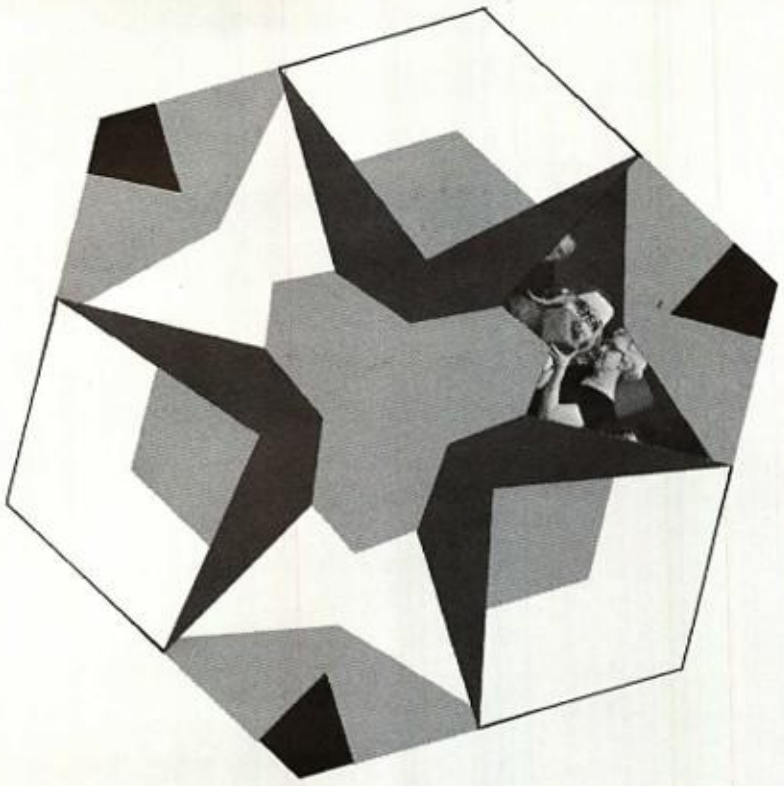
"Ooo that feels sooo good---."

"Don't push the panic button, here comes the light, egghead."

"Got no T-I-N-G-L-E!"

"They're already in orbit!"

"All right a' ready--- we're doing it."



Faculty

This piece of the kaleidoscope sheds more light and hue to the surrounding pieces than any of the other ones. With a willingness to understand the individual, the members of our faculty serve not for their self-interest alone, but for the purpose of presenting patterns to prepare the lives and futures of each student for our educated world. They guide and instruct with constant patience and genuine concern—not permitting us to doubt without first inspiring us to believe. Each teacher gives not only of his wisdom but also of a true and meaningful friendship.

JUNIORS

Junior Officers

The junior officers are: President, David Brown; Vice-President, Danny Lavaud; Secretary, Gale Selego; Treasurer, Patti Gillen.

The hard working Class of '66 is already fighting for their senior privileges!! This highly organized group possesses the necessary leaders and ability to achieve success in every undertaking that they try. Their example this year has benefited the entire student body at FCHS and has resulted in prestige and acceptance. Each junior has unselfishly contributed his time to this year's Prom and has made the last few weeks of school for the graduating seniors a memoriable occasion. The mature class of '66 has instilled an air of confidence and pride in our school. Each is full of suggestions and questions, each wishes to better their class, and each tries to fulfill his obligation as a student to his fellow-classmates, teachers, and school. We congratulate this class and hope that they will continue to aid their underclassmen in their graduating year of '66.

Doctors Flora and Varn Play Important Roles In Education

Dr. and Mrs. Varn are favored guests at the faculty Christmas party.

Dr. Guy L. Varn, Superintendent of the Columbia City Schools, holds in his hand educational opportunities. To educate the "citizens of tomorrow" is a goal to which he has dedicated his life.

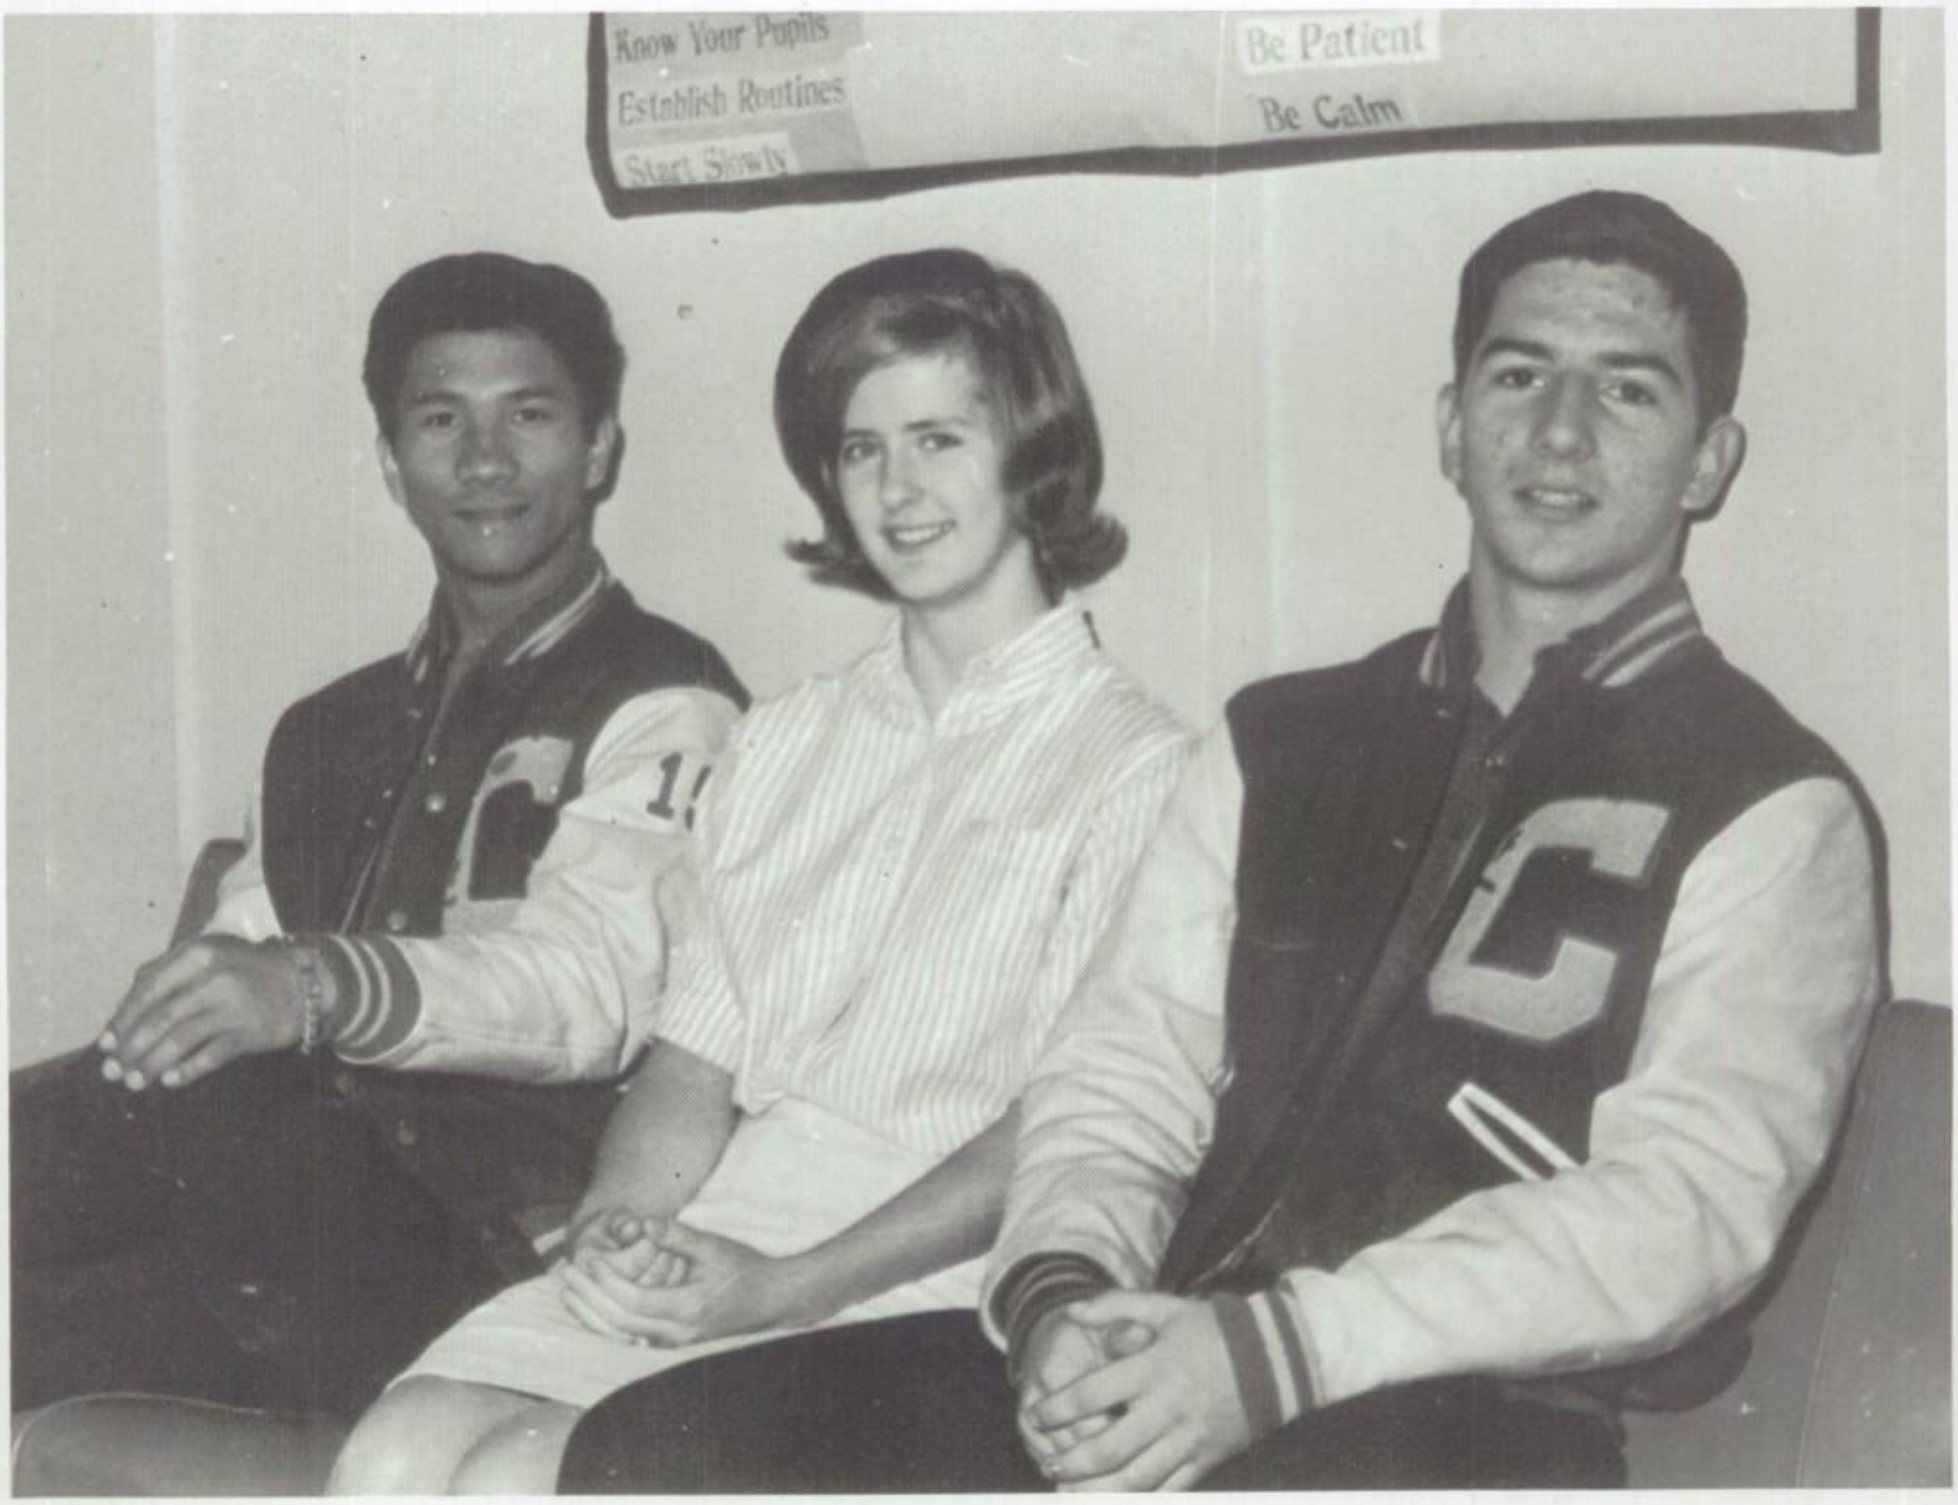
Falcons deem it a privilege to have their school bear the name of the prominent educator, Dr. A. C. Flora. Having such a namesake is a constant challenge to Flora students, who diligently strive upward, choosing the outstanding life of Dr. Flora as their model.

Each semester at Student Council installation, Dr. and Mrs. Flora honor the student body by their presence.

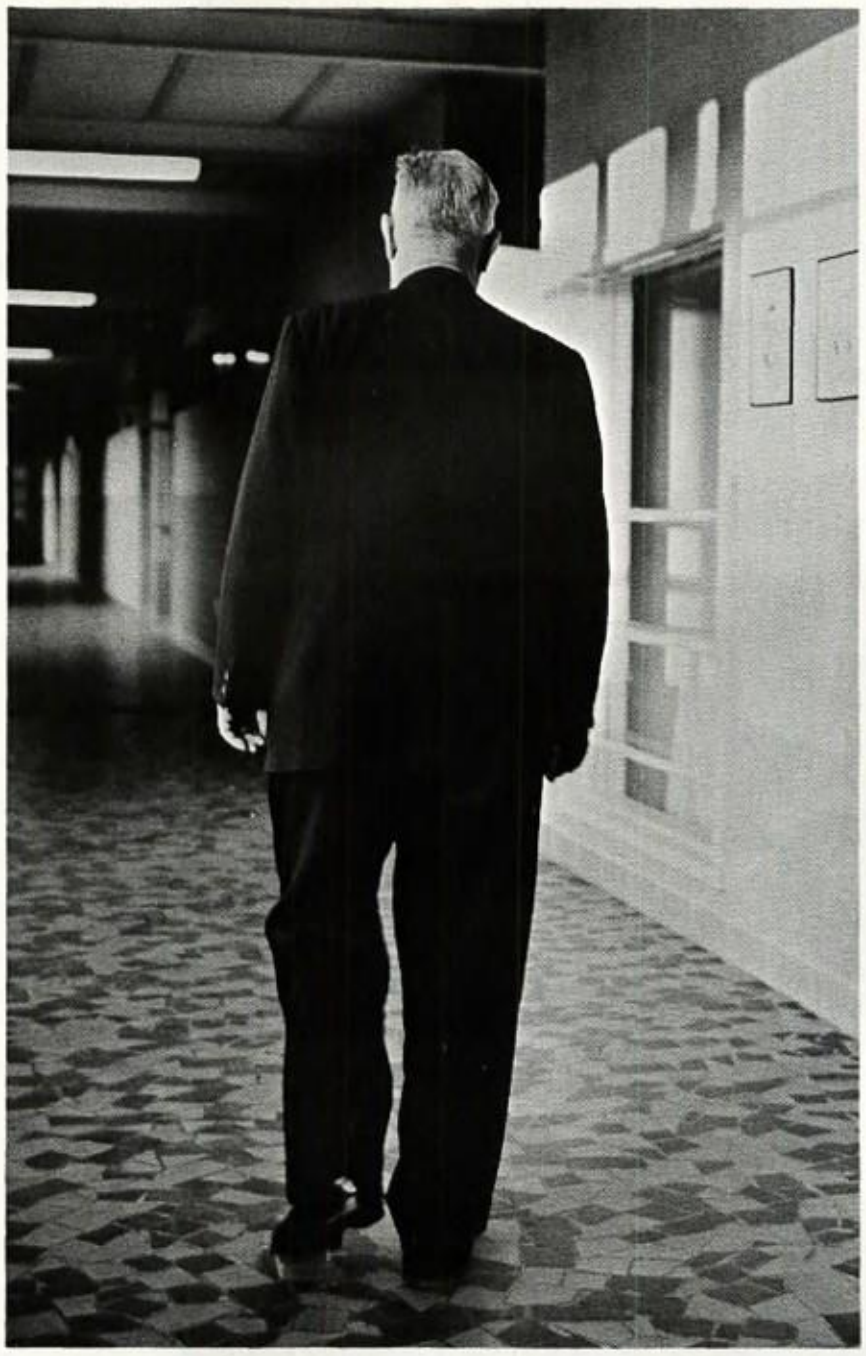
SOPHOMORES

Sophomore Officers

These responsible teens are awaiting the day when they will be called "upperclassmen" and looked up to! During the school year, they have sponsored the Christmas Dance, which brought a clamor of appreciation from their fellow classes. Our sophomores respect the guidance of their sponsors and follow the example set by their seniors. Usually, they try to participate as much as possible in the Student Council and all school activities. Many times a sophomore has been found with the greatest willingness to undertake any assignment presented to him by any "senior." They have succeeded in establishing themselves as a likeable and respectable group of high goals and standards.



The sophomore officers are: President, Robby Visitacion; Vice-President, Rick Haines; and Secretary-Treasurer, Sharon Stanley.



Mr. Blum Urges Each Student to Strive for Perfection

A rambling, gay tune sung by a deep, masculine voice . . . a soft, almost unfelt pat on an unsuspecting head . . . a cordial, authoritative "Good Morning" booming over the P. A. . . . such actions are characteristic of our principal, Mr. J. K. Blum. Years of experience and consistent learning have made Mr. Blum a respected, efficient administrator. His genuine concern for the well-being of each student marks him as a man of immense human understanding. When Mr. Blum speaks, we cannot help listening and taking seriously his words of truth.

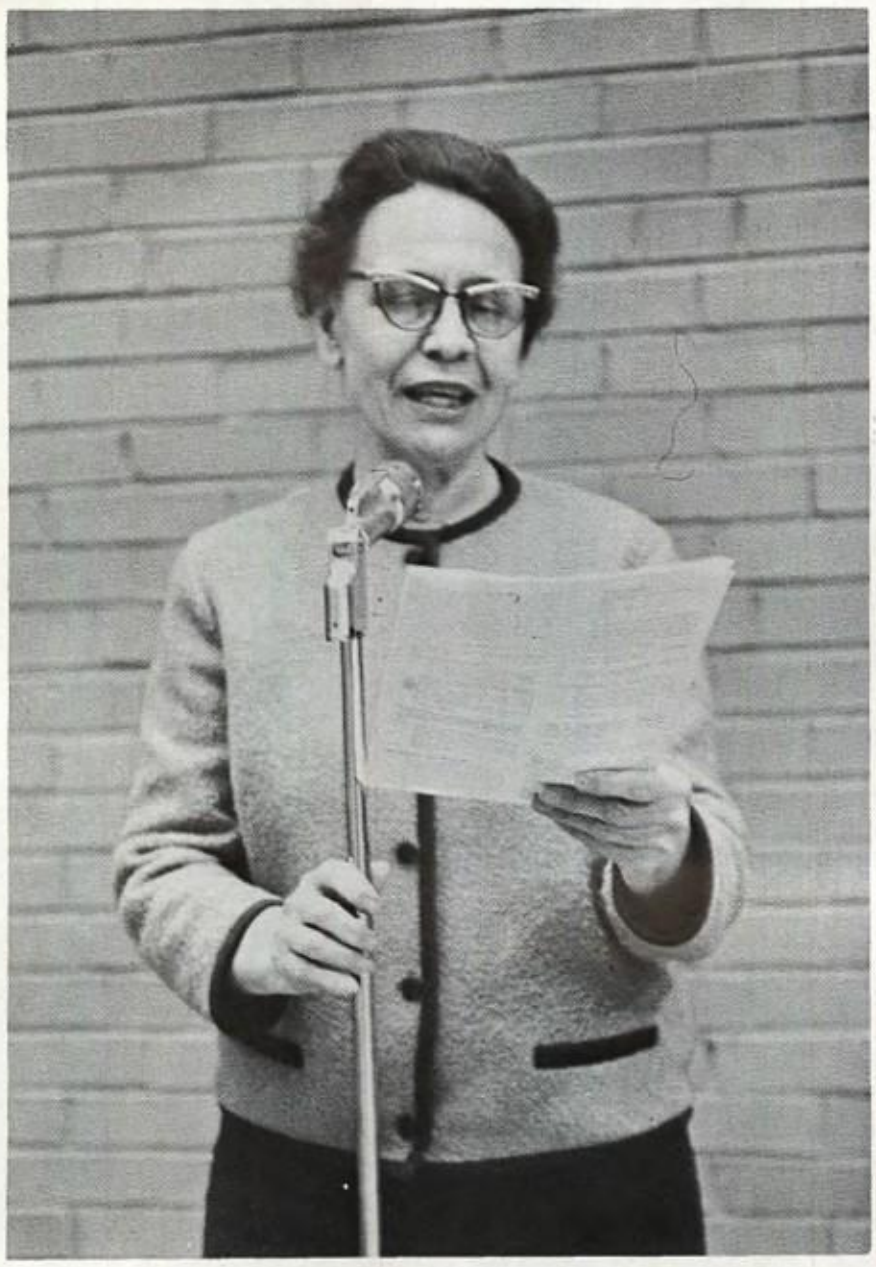
Miss Sease Graduates With Us!



With a stern but reassuring voice, our assistant principal has administered tests to many students.

The falcon has been ever present during the many years of guidance offered by Miss Sease.

Dear Miss Sease,

We began six years ago as a small, inexperienced institution— still wet from newly mixed cement. You came to Flora with the knowledge and patience of a skilled artist. With determination and care you began to mold the image of the "Falcon". Long hours went into a creation which now stands proudly on its own two feet— a living, working tribute to your efforts.

Your presence has been with us from the beginning and shall remain with Flora forever. Sophomores and juniors will remember you for your patient counseling and efficient administration. Seniors, however, will cherish a unique memory. They alone can say, "She chose to graduate with us!"

Thank you, Miss Sease— for being the wonderful person you are!

Love,
1275 Falcons

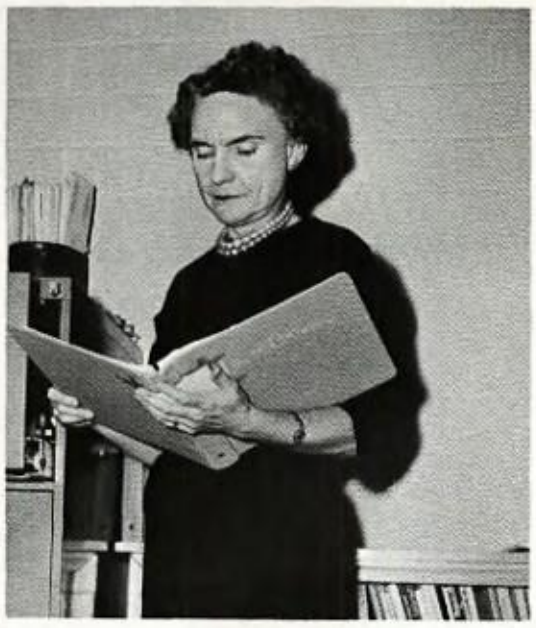
Freshman Officers

Freshmen now stand on the threshold of their high school career. They are beginning a new life while ending the old. The example and pace set by the class of '65 is followed more by freshmen than they seem to realize. These students are working toward improved participation in what they call "their school." In this class, new leaders with a desire to learn and mature are making themselves known. The class of '68 wishes to be remembered for their overwhelming school spirit, broadmindedness, and pride. They have attained a high degree of success in all fields of our school's curriculum and will surely gain more during their sophomore year. This class is in search of respect from upperclassmen, namely supercilious seniors, and have no doubt gained it through their untiring efforts.

The freshmen officers are: President, Tim Beneke; Vice-President, Billy Sykes; Secretary, Henry Spencer; and Treasurer, Naomi Estes.



Record books containing test scores, semester grades and extra-curricular activities are kept in each counselor's office. Miss Brown turns to such information to aid her counseling in School A.

A few sophomores, several juniors and many seniors visit counselors to borrow college catalogues and discuss the possibilities of college acceptance. Mrs. Foster, counselor in School D, is always willing to confer about college plans.

Parents often seek the advice of our "little school" counselors. Mrs. Tweed reassures a concerned parent in School C.

Mrs. Gilbert, counselor of School B, patiently talks with a confused student about changing his schedule.

Classes

Classes lend to the picture the light of wisdom and truth absorbed in four years of group learning. Somewhere, some time that wistful craving for knowledge surges within our souls urging us to search the mystery of life and the world. Steady hands pour life's unknown essence from test tube to cylinder for measurement. Learning has made us sure that if we but find the purpose of knowledge, all else will be added to us. Knowledge echoes to us in every hall, luring us to seek the joy of understanding—we learn only so much as we wish to hear.

SENIORS . . . waiting motionless while a million emotions revolve within them . . . share nostalgia for all that has been familiar.

JUNIORS . . . seeing that many tomorrows are now yesterdays . . . realize how short is the space of time in which to do all that is offered.

SOPHOMORES . . . overpowering all inadequacies to meet demands . . . find a basis for lasting ideals.

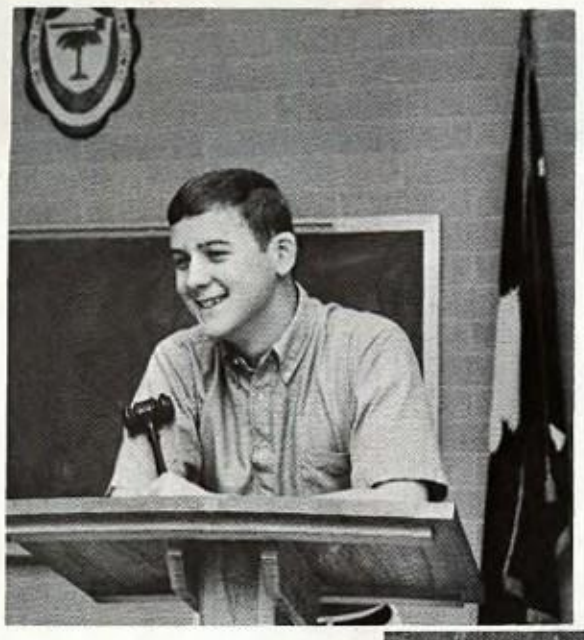
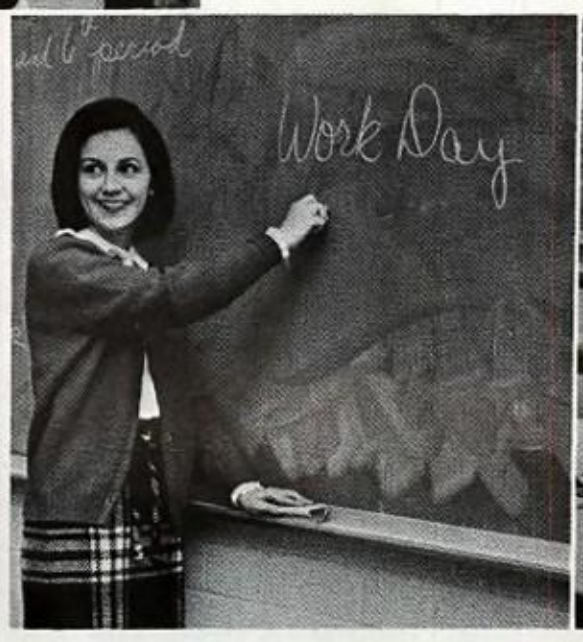
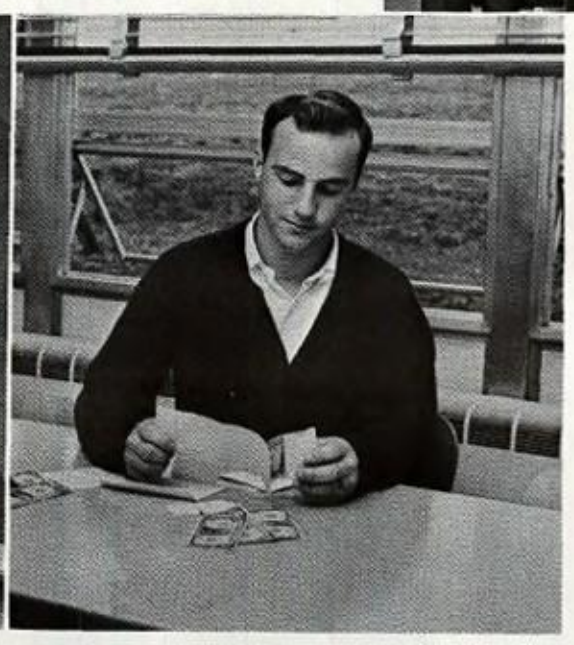
Being A Senior Is Sadness



Dave Merry, president, presides at all class meetings.



Secretary, Pat McLaughlin, receives suggestions for one of the big projects.



Dickie Sturkie, treasurer, keeps a record of senior funds.

SENIORS . . . Class of '65

Excited about the prospect of graduating, senior committee chairmen, Marshall Lipscomb, Banquet; Doug King, Graduation; Vickie Eslinger, Class Night; Tommy Salane, Senior Sermon; Colie Dyson, Junior-Senior Dance; and Cheryl McCoy, Invitations, try on robes. Absent when picture was made: Linda Denny, Robes.

As graduation nears, we prepare to pass the sceptre of leadership into other hands. For us, the year has been one of culmination and completion. We learned the importance of extending the great heritage of Flora—leaving behind an example to follow and a goal to strive for.

Soon we must leave this familiar world and enter a world anew. And as we leave, a little of our heart stays behind. Over the years our love of Flora has grown to be very great and true; the walls of Flora serve as silent reminders of all the tears shed and laughter spent during the wonderful years. Golden memories, forever to be cherished, have become a lasting part of our minds—memories never to be duplicated and never to be replaced. Yes, it is now, when we must wave a final lingering goodbye to a wonderful part of our life gone by, that we learn—being a senior is sadness.

HONORS

Valedictorian

Kathy Duco has been an honor to Fort Campbell High School. Hers is a knowing spirit. An earnest worker, she has given her best to every endeavor. Her high aims and lofty purposes, along with her scholarship, have made her a leader. Kathy has great ability, but more important, she has the enduring trait--character.

"Ismet's Our 'Big Cheese'"

Ismet Babaoglu—a very special falcon—is our exchange student from Istanbul, Turkey, where he lives with his parents and a younger brother and sister. Coming to live in America for a year is a strange and lonely experience, yet, has met this opportunity with indomitable cheerfulness and persistence. Many a day he has enlightened the life of a Flora student with his playful antics and jokes.

Living with his American family, the C. L. Pilchers, Ismet has absorbed the essence of family life. Many of our slang terms such as "cut it out" and "big cheese" have become a part of his vocabulary. He has eaten French fries, dated "only pretty girls," and organized a soccer team at Flora.

Ismet will take all of this knowledge back to Turkey, and it will help to give his people an insight to America; but Ismet leaves behind more than he could ever take away.

A gentleman, a comedian, a conscientious student—all these are Ismet.

Ismet has truly adopted to the family life of the C. L. Pilchers and to American environment. The family—Les, Laurie, Mrs. Pilcher, Mr. Pilcher, Tracy, Ismet, and Jane.

Number 10 is "the leader of the pack".

Salutatorian

Ron Bailey has a strength of mind. He never has much to say; he just works and goes his way. His achievements more than his words speak for him. He possesses the kind of determination that attracts all types of people. They know that he will not let them down. He remains constant in his approach to life and retains a clear picture of all that he encounters. In his quiet scholarly way, Ron Bailey succeeds.

National Honor Society

MISS KATHRYNE DUCO

Falcon Staff

Our Falcon Sponsor, Mrs. Louise B. Robinson was last seen being carried away on a stretcher!

The Co-editor of the Falcon is that "hard working" Pat Bartlett, who is reported to be K.D.'s muscle man!!!

The Falcon's bossman this year was Kathy Duco, the whiplashing, "tongue-tied" senior of '65.

Throughout the year of '65 there have been moments of despair, frustration, and utter hopelessness, but yet the staff did not give up, and worked unselfishly to complete a task that it knowingly accepted in September '64. With the able guidance of Mrs. Robinson and Mr. Wilkins, the staff has succeeded at long last in providing a yearbook that can proudly bear the title of Falcon.

Our talented "art" editors give us a quickie as we find them rummaging through the storage closet, looking for a few "original" ideas.

Oh, lets not bring back BAD memories from that glorious year of '65! (Poor Bill; Poorer Duane) Really boys, we're just kidding??!!

Yee Gads! Our books will never balance with "mathless" Gordon and "can't-add-two" Hensley as business managers!

The Falcon Staff can only attempt the impossible! A yearbook is the reflection of each student in F.C.H.S. It contains happiness in a quiet sort of way. The intention and purposes of this year's staff has been fulfilled. The book is finished but the memories are eternal. Cherish it, remember it, for it's the only yearbook of its kind! Never again will we write on the pages of '65.

We came, we saw, we conquered—but, oh the headaches in between!!

Falcon Crier

Ruth Miller, the dynamic editor of the "Falcon Crier" was first appointed to her prominent position by the faculty and then overwhelmingly elected to it by the staff.

The Co-editor, Sherry Halsey, has accepted her responsibility by asserting her authority wisely in and out of class!

Say hello to the Journalism class of '65. Its disorganized, hectic, nerve-wracking, and just plain WONDERFUL. Both the Falcon Staff and Crier Staff are pictured since many members work interchangeably with both groups.

Mr. Williams, band supervisor of F.C.H.S., seeks success for the marching Falcons. With his know-how, unceasing effort, and natural grasp of music, his players have brought pride and status to Fort Campbell. To him, music is a vital wave pulsating throughout every fiber of his body. His world centers around its magic notes which can entrance even the most unknowing student. His never-ending goal is to instill within each of us a deep appreciation for musical art and skill.

The radiant Miss Hannum is crowned by Dr. C. O. McKee while Fire Chief Wood looks on.

Here the queen poses with the first runner-up, Miss Cheryl Hadley, and second runner-up, Miss Elva Chapa. We're sure you will agree that they epitomize FCHS beauty.

The first dance is danced traditionally by the queen and her lovely court.

Presented before you is Miss Flame and her court of 1964. Virtuous perfection beams from each and every face.

Tension builds as the dreams of one little girl come true. The air cracks with lively hopes and little fears. Surprise and tears of joy fill the eyes of Lucy Collins as she becomes the Junior Miss Flame of 1964. Weak knees and nervous hands reveal disbelief as she is escorted to her throne. "Can this really be happening to me!" she exclaims.

Such happy memories can never be forgotten. Until the day she dies, Lucy will always cling to her few golden moments of glory and triumph. Long after the roses have wilted and died, she will remember with the help of her Falcon Yearbook her moment in history.

Our bubbling "eight" led the caravan of Falcon supporters.

Remember the Friday night Homecoming bonfire when everyone nearly froze or roasted?

The chorus entry helped to highlight the parade with a small bit of humor.

Key Club Sweetheart, Gale Selego, added poise and charm to "Homecoming '64."

Homecoming Queen, Patti Gillen did the honors by cutting the first piece of Falcon cake for her steady.

Dr. McKee crowned Miss Patti Gillen and presented her with a kiss.

Through the air glides a human missle, who carried a victorious Falcon football.

Merry Christmas

Sparkling in a myraid of color with its boughs reigning supreme was our Christmas tree.

Joaquina added poise and charm to the sophomore affair as she sat regally upon her throne.

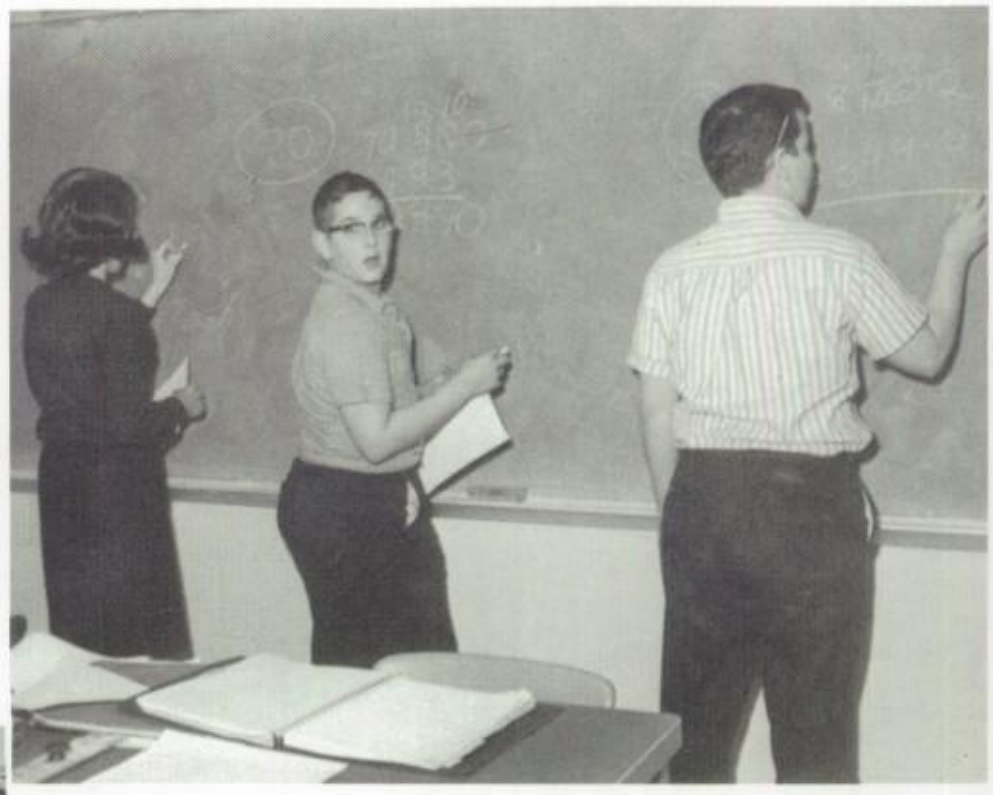
Be My Valentine!

"Won't you be my Valentine?" plead these four FCHS teens. Our chubby cupid this year was none other than WABD's Spreading Ugly, Jim Burkhart. That night brought starry eyes, pounding hearts, and all the other symptoms of young puppy love. From over this over-sized Valentine gaze Tom Bearden and our mischievous Cay Hannum. Beneath them sit Vesta Rogers and Mike Keith pondering the true aspects of love.

STUDENT LIFE!

"Open your mouth and close your eyes!"—You're in for a big surprise!



The highlight of each day (especially to the Junior High) is the flag raising ceremony.

A dignified sophomore is mistaken for confetti and thrown into the air.

Cherry Pink

Johnny Hutson, Prom King is crowned by Dr. C. O. McKee as Carol Turbeville is presented with red roses by Major General Beverly E. Powell. Later, Queen Carol and King Johnny, as is traditional, began the first dance. This tensely awaited event brought a look of sheer dreaminess to girls' faces as they looked forward to this affair. The King and Queen were elected by the members of the Junior class who sponsored this event; but no one knew until the final moment who the King and Queen were. The theme—"Cherry Pink and Apple Blossom White" helped enhance the loveliness of the evening. Guests from the post as well as prominent civilians attended. A buffet dinner was served amid the glamorous decorations that reflected our central theme.

Literary Club

The Literary Club is composed mainly of those students interested in gaining an advanced knowledge of the humanities.

The Literary and Drama Clubs are designed to increase an interest in the cultural developments of the past, present and future through the study and production of plays, literature, and lively discussions on subjects of common concern to high school students. Any student desiring to become a member of either of these clubs must be willing to take an active part in club activities which often take a great deal of time and thought on the part of the participant. The well-earned rewards and feeling of satisfaction from doing something beneficial to the mind, however, make all this effort well worthwhile. Any student desiring to widen his cultural background and horizons should find a wealth of knowledge and experiences in either or both of these clubs.

Drama

The Drama Club's principle interest this year has been to perfect a professional touch in the production of the play, "Great Caeser's Ghost."

The Math Club, sponsored by Mrs. Rowena Carter, aspires to reach higher levels of mathematics. The members are interested in all different aspects of the science. During the past year they have participated in the math contest at Austin Peay State College. Each student seeks a deeper understanding of all the possible links between mathematics and his world, in which, the lives of many are at stake.

FTA

The Future Teachers of America Club is sponsored by Mrs. Sylawa. Its interest lies in the desire to gain the full satisfaction involved in teaching other human beings. The rewards that they reap in their service are inward gratification and a feeling of helpfulness.

Languages

The Language Club is a newly organized composite of French, German, Latin, and Spanish students. The group as a whole helps to build a better background for the understanding of people of other countries. It also tries to bring the rest of the student body into closer contact with the beliefs and views of these same people. It leads the school with the vigor of the German, instills knowledge with the use of universal Latin, and makes friends with the ease of the French and Spanish.

Activities

This next section imparts a sense of motion and rhythm to the kaleidoscope of activity. Quick and fleeting hands gracefully skim the notes of music that find their way into the secret places of our soul, while a sure and strong voice booms words of leadership and power. Unassuming girls, with their inborn woman's skill, compose a constant rhythm with a sewing needle, as their movements bear grace and feminine charm. Mouths resound the words of oratorical genius and grow familiar with the useful mode of communicated understanding. All these variations of potential skill supplement the image of a school.

Student Council

The campus, brightened by the red and blue trash cans, buzzed with activity this year. Visitors thronged our halls, as Student Council was host to the S.C.A.S.C. Conference and the annual International Day. Not only did Student Council change the appearance of the school with trash cans, but also it changed many discrepancies in the constitution. Yet of these projects, one affects Flora's atmosphere above all. For if you looked for the biggest group of girls. you'd be sure to find Student Council's most important project—Ismet, our first boy exchange student.

Committees Tie Council Together

The Constitution Committee—Randy Wilhoit, Phyllis Leaphart, Steve Gardner, Jeannie Cress, and Susan Beskid—concentrate on writing amendments that will correct flaws in the school's constitution.

Andrella Todd, Judi Bihari, Julie Hudson, Larry Cunningham, and Catherine Smith decorate for a dance sponsored and organized by the Social Committee.

Luke Lentz, Gail Baker, Alan Wise, Whit Jordan, George Epting, and Sally McCrady of the House and Grounds Committee attempt to sustain cleanliness and neatness on Falcon ground.

Busily sorting clothes from the annual clothes drive are Cindie Henmon, Toni Gray, Kenneth Shull, Marie Mitchell, Sally Strachan, Julie Clark, Helena Flickenger, Anita DaVega, and Ellen Walker, members of the Welfare and Special Project Committees.

The Assembly and Publicity Committees—consisting of Carrington Salley, Dawn Giles, Mary Bistline, Martie Daetwyler, Dolly McGrath, Sandy White, Billy Lowrance, Lana Coplan, Sally Farrell, and Fraser Bleakley—combine forces to plan an appealing assembly program.

What Could Council Do Without These!

Is there a better way for the Spirit Committee to spend an afternoon than decorating the float for the Dreher game? Dickie Sturkie, chairman; Sally Strachan, Joe Patterson, Leigh Tanner, Dale Nettles, Steve Savitz, Dolly McGrath, Nikki Walker, Johnnie Gay Martin, Mary Mac Hancock, Bill Warlick, Peggy Smith, Betty Love, Vickie Eslinger, and Patti Fuller think not.

Marshall Lipscomb and Mark Sloan, chairmen of the Exchange Assembly, search the calendar for an open date.

Chairmen of the various committees for the S.C.A.S.C. Conference help to set up the stage for the last general assembly. The chairmen include Sherry Gomez, Benny Moore, Clyde Timmons, Dickie Sturkie, Linda Hair, Martenza Jones, Bea Johnson, Betsy Daniel, Martie Daetwyler, Betty Bishop, and Raven McCrory.

The Football Program Committee, whose chairman is Rhetta Hartin, is preparing to make another picture. Lana Coplan, Marie Mitchell, and Cindie Henmon are helping with the preparations.

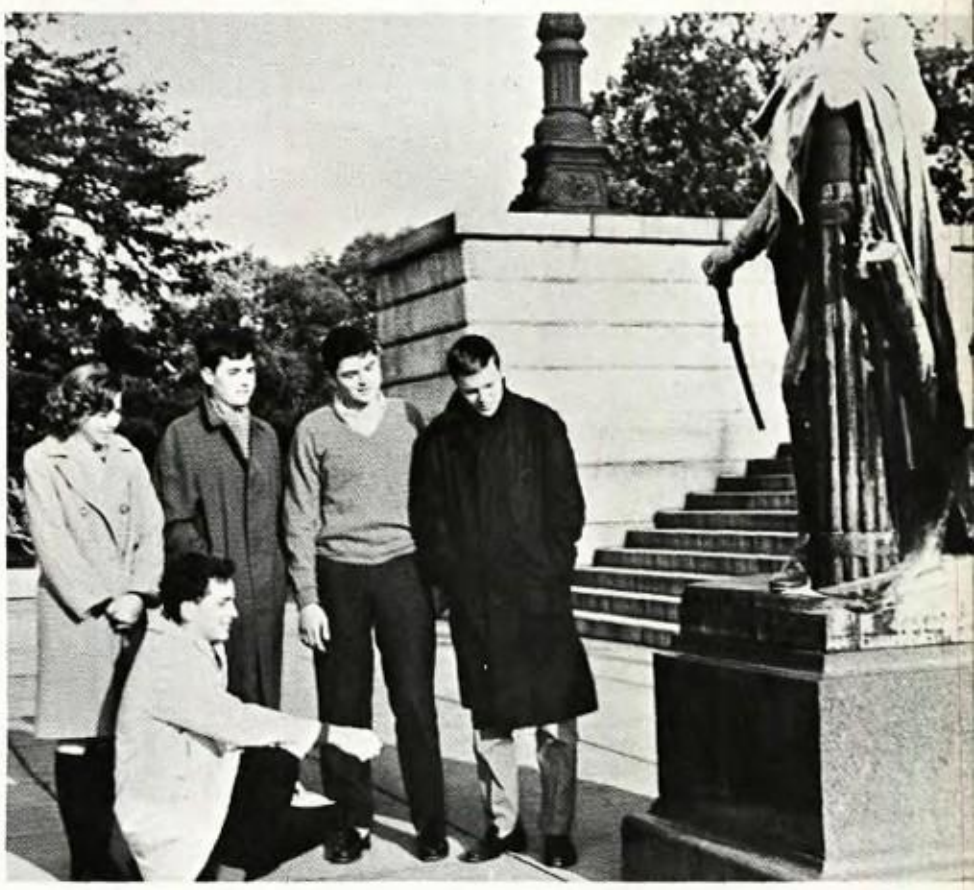
Second Semester Council Works Until the End

Public Relations and Problems and Special Projects committees take inventory of the school supply counter. Brenda Nussbaum, Betty Goddard, George Leventis, Mike Niver, Fred Crow, chairman of the Problems and Special Projects Committee; LaRue Penny, Teena Morris, Stanley Chu, chairman of the Public Relations Committee. Eddie Collins, Al Buckalew, and Diane Jenkins make up these committees.

Reminiscent of the "good ole days" are Ken Daetwyler, Marla Moseley, Harvey Harrelson, David Moody, Ann Vanderlip, and Betty Love, chairman of the Welfare Committee; fill Easter baskets which will bring joy to the children of Pineland Training School.

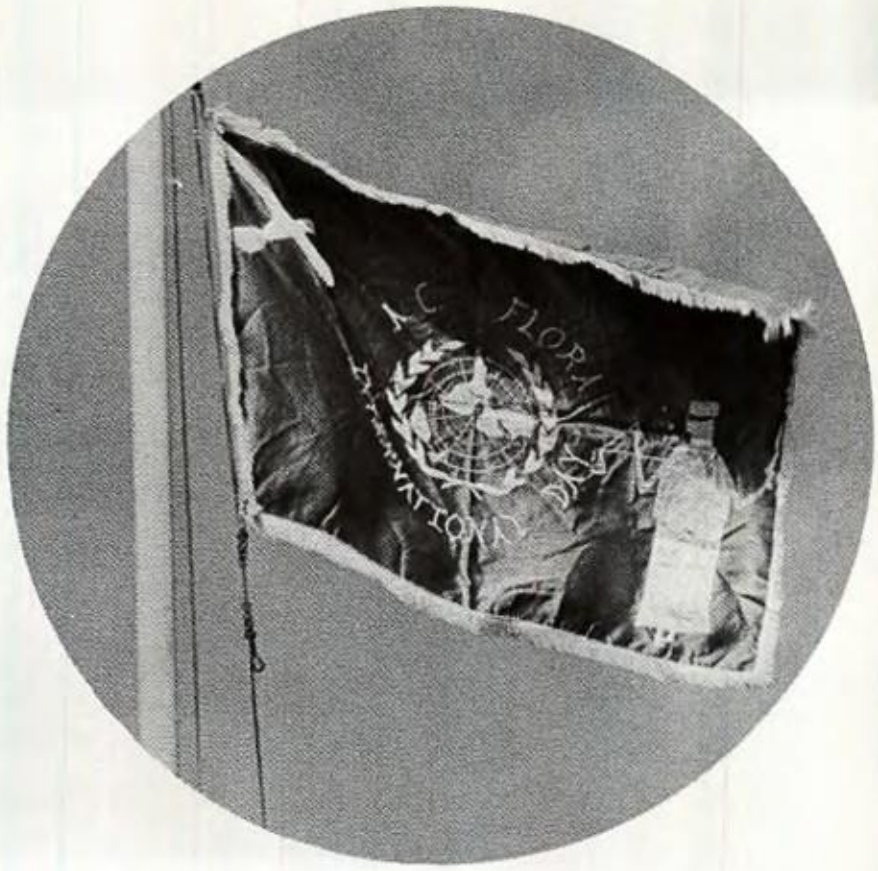
The Assembly Committee, composed of Harriet Diehl, Cliff Davis, Kathy Wright, Ernest Schichler, and Jane DuRant, chairman, run through the many preparations that are involved in an organized assembly.

Gaining inspiration from the "father of our country," are Susan Brock, Lauren Brubaker, chairman; Bill Brooks, Peter Karnazes, and Jim Williams of the Constitution Committee.



The Social Committee and the House and Grounds Committees prepare to replant grass on the school grounds. Tom Mauldin, Bea Johnson, Social Committee chairman; Nancey Jervey, Mary Willis, David Huntley, Ricky Thomas, Bobby Mitchell, Don Tomlin, House and Grounds Committee chairman; and Jack Walters compose these committees.

Mr. Adrian Fisher, Deputy Director of U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, delivered the main address in the assembly.



Joe Patterson, co-chairman, and Mark Archer, chairman, unpack the International Day Banner which has become a symbol for all the hard work put into this unique day.

International Day chairmen, Betsy Daniel, Linda Hair, Betty Bishop, B'Anne Barnes, Bill Warlick, and Dale Nettles mix fun with hard work as they check the banner that will fly over the entrance to Falcon Drive announcing International Day.

International Day

Five years ago, International Day was conceived in the mind and spirit of the Flora student body. Since that stroke of genius, it has been nourished by the hopes, the pride, and the hard work of every falcon. Each year—like a child—this annual event has grown and has assumed a distinctly unique character.

International Day this year was no exception. Speakers and homeroom exhibits brought foreign countries, customs, and people into new focus as students soaked up visual knowledge. An elaborate assembly arrayed with colorful flags and costumes displayed the seriousness and earnest determination of the students to reach their goal of world understanding. An Italian street dance marked the close of an unforgettable day.

For the sophomores and juniors, this year's observance was a preview of International Days to come. For the seniors, it is now a memory of something special . . . International Day 1965.

Colorful lanterns are strung to add atmosphere to the Italian street dance.

National Honor Society

After being inducted into the National Honor Society, as an honorary member, Miss Grace Sease seems just as proud and excited as the other new members, Danny Laurens, Michael Sribnick, Fredree Good, Sandra Fitts, Bill Brooks, Barbara Lambrecht, Randy True, and Bill Pitts.

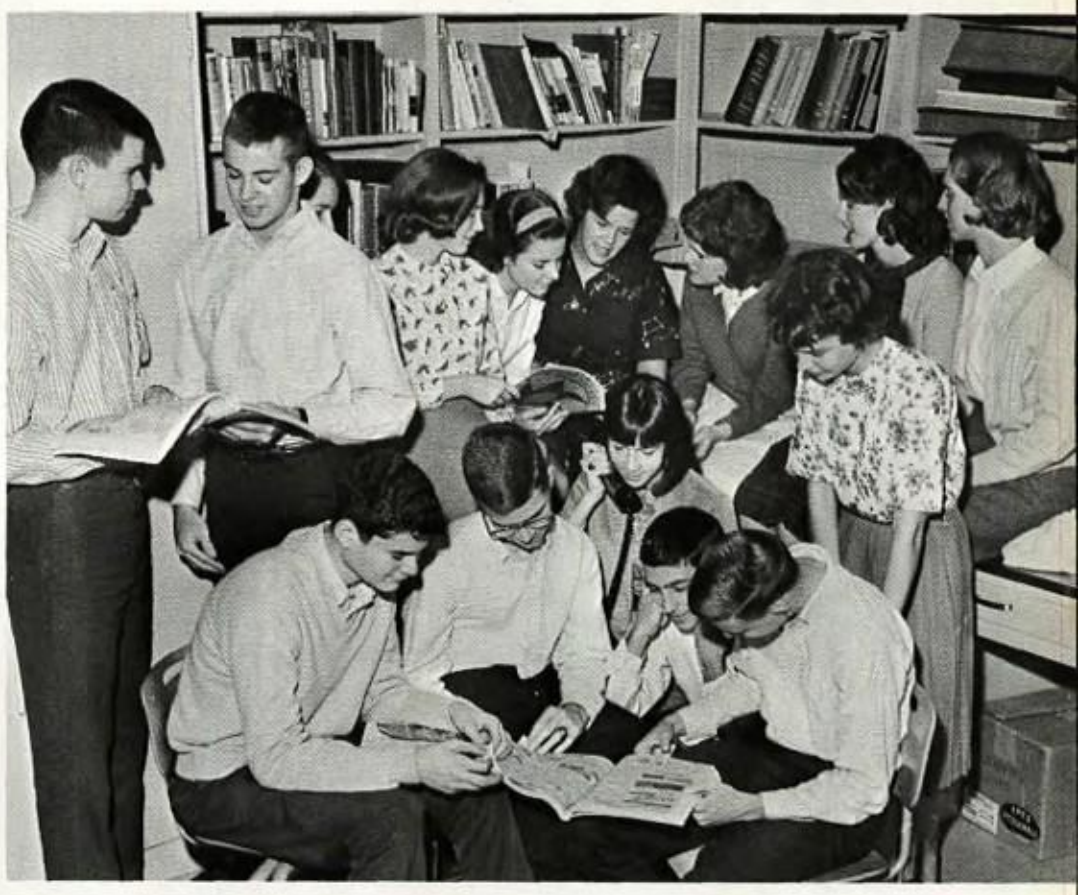
Miss Beverly Sanders and Mrs. Margery Short, sponsors, pause and breathe a sigh of relief at the reception after another installation ceremony.

As Phil McClary collects dues, Bill McWilliams, Clyde Timmons, Raven McCrory, Johnny Linton, Bud Cousar, Dave Merry, Lee Taylor, Gregg Gerdes, Jim Williams, Barrie Bridgers, Joe Walters, Andy Suber, Philip Law, and Spivey Singletary suffer one of the hardships of belonging to a large group—standing in line.

"Hold High the Torch"

As they say the traditional words of "Hold High the Torch," the Honor Society pledges to advance with new goals in mind. These students "pass on the torch" to others in the school through a tutoring service. To aid the members in planning for the future, the vocational giudance committee provided many vocational programs. Also, working toward a better school, the honor code committee is striving for a sound and workable honor code which will be acceptable to every student.

Relaxing between exams must be the secret that keeps Bobby Salane, Roxy Shellenberger, Kay Smith, Fran Tupper, Pat Thomas, Jack Baker, Betty Gentry, Susan Klinch, and Brenda Nussbaum in the Honor Society.



The Vocational Guidance Committee contacts a speaker to present a program on his life's work. The members are Allen Tinder, Benny Moore, Dale Distin, Kitty McCaskill, Patty Jenkins, Judy Hawkins, Linda Denny, Linda Gregory, Louis Bailey, Connie Hudson, Lee McAden, Peter Karndazes, Gene Simpson, Harvey Helman, and Dick Bonner.

Carrington Salley leads a discussion at an Honor Code Committee meeting. Taking part are Lauren Brubaker, Stephen Gardner, Connie Aldrich, Nikki Walker, Jo Ann Schall, Martenza Jones, Jeanne Carroll, Linda Craig, Betty Bishop, Linda Hair, Malcolm Johnson, J. R. Fussell, Martie Daetwyler, Jeff Abrams, Gary Silverfield, Alan Jeffcoat, and Mark Archer.

The annual staff is the hand that turns the kaleidoscope, making the pieces fall gently into their places. Teamwork is the last piece of the design. Each person has not only aided in producing this total picture of our school, but has also accumulated many memories, friendships, interests, and experiences as he completed the difficult and sometimes seemingly impossible work that lies behind each page.

It is the sincerest wish of each member of the annual staff that our book will not only be liked by all students, but will also provide a tangible reminder of your 1964-65 year at Flora.

Business Manager, Jackie Shuler, and Assistant, Sandy White, seek ads for the annual.

Falcon Staff

Marshall Lipscomb and Doug King, Assistant Editors, enjoy each other's jokes as Mrs. Tollison and Miss Mace, Sponsors, stand by.

The junior and sophomore class staffs start the difficult task of identifying and alphabetizing pictures. Members of the junior staff are Lana Coplan, Joyce Hedgecock, Johnny Linton, and Betty Goddard, Editor. Monty Macmillan, Kelsey Bistline, and Editor Toni Gray compose the sophomore staff.

The senior staff—consisting of Dale Nettles, Nancey Jervey, Editor Mary Bistline, Sandra Stephens, and Bill McWilliams—wear the pages thin as they search for appropriate quotes.

Annual Staff Fits Pieces Together

The activities staff and their photographers breeze off to take still more pictures. Shown here are Helena Flickenger, Edmund Robinson, Martie Daetwyler, Gary Silverfield, Bill Crown, and co-editors, Becki Bowers and Sherry Gomez.

Hoping to find new ideas for their section, Pat McLaughlin and Alan Jeffcoat, editors of the sports section, observe football practice with Eddie Collins and Benny Moore.

These members—Doug King and Gregg Freedman, photographers; Betsy Daniel, writer; Mary Van Ehrlich and Ansley Scoville, artists; and Bob Shearin, writer—prove with their work and individual contributions to the annual that "little things mean a lot".

Sparkling as much as the letters they work on, Lilly Stern, Ruth McKinney, and Eugenis Berry work with Mary Lovvorn, beauty editor, to make the Beauty Contest a success!

Linda Hair, Editor-in-Chief, and Carrington Salley, Assistant Editor, struggle to hang their new sign.

While discussing plans for their next issue, Section Editors, Bob Shearin, Frank Weed, Editor Linda Hair, Julie Winn, Janis Bale, and Dale Distin pester Merry Anne Burnette for a "corny" idea.

Daily Activities Come Alive

What's new in Flora newspapers?—no subscription drives! There are nine issues of the paper and each student receives a copy. As a media for expression of ideas as well as a publication of events and honors, The Winged Press is true to its name at is flies through preparation, press, and finally to Falcon hands.

In publishing this paper, students learn the values of good journalism, organization, and accomplishment. For the future time of memories, the newspaper tells "in black and white" the activities and events of our school.

Officially announcing their arrival, Carrington Salley, Editor, and Assistant Editor, Julie Winn, change the names on the "Sleepy Hollow" sign.

Moving? Not really. The Winged Press section editors of second semester are just on their way to print another copy of the paper. The editors are: Dawn Giles, make-up editor; Debbie Hannon, exchange editor; Bill Warlick, sports co-editor; Dale Distin, circulation editor; Linda Hair and Merry Anne Burnette, news editors, and Al Buckalew, sports co-editor.

Working overtime?

Caroling and candles brightened the homes of Flora neighbors when "Anchor-Clubbers" led the student body in a Christmas caroling party. Officers—Marie Mitchell, Senior Director; Sally Strachan, Secretary; Marshall Lipscomb, President; B'Anne Barnes, Vice-President; Betsy Daniel, Treasurer; Lana Coplan, Junior Director—hurriedly practice "Jingle Bells" before leaving the school.

Spring cleaning comes to Flora, with the aid of the committee chairmen, Abby McMurray, Mary Weston, Ginny Lentz, Mary Bistline, Ellen DaVega, Pat McLaughlin and B'Anne Barnes.

After another Monday night session, Anchor Clubbers, Jackie Shuler, Carol Bower, Pat Thomas, Dale Nettles, Martenza Jones, Becki Bowers, Roxy Shellenberger, Betty Goddard, and Sandy White examine the last remains of their symbol which caused quite a stir within the student body during Safety Week.

Anchor Club

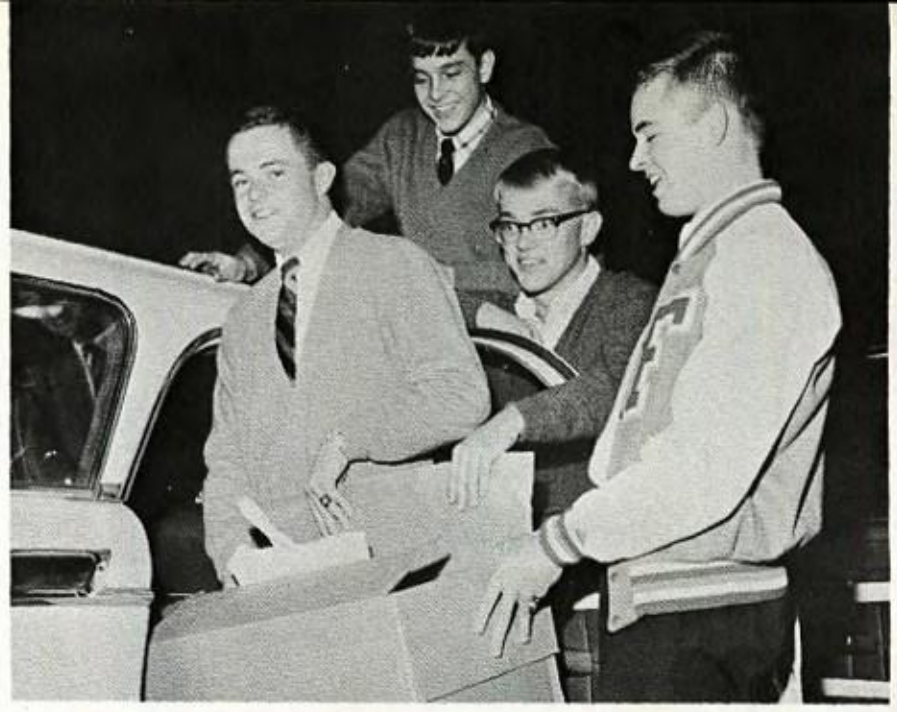
Anchor Club girls worked this year to clean up not only the inside of the buildings but also the outside. Working with the Key Club on the Anchor Club-Key Club Assembly, Anchor Club raised money for the Wee Care Nursery for retarded children. Inspite of the frequent raids of Key Club on the Anchor Club meetings, Anchor Club managed to dress dolls for the Salvation Army at Christmas, sponsored a Christmas caroling party, worked with the Safety Council on Safety Week, helped Key Club with the Homecoming float, and last, but not least, produced Anchor Antics for the enjoyment of the students.

Rivalry Between These

A tug o' war found its place in the assembly which Anchor and Key Clubs sponsored to raise money for charity. Here Anchor Club girls—Millie McLaurin, Kitty McCaskill, Linda Hair, Pat Denny, Carrington Salley, Sandra Git-

Key Club

If one gets to school early enough in the morning, one can see a "Key-Clubber" raising the flag. Key Club members contribute much to Flora during football season, for it is they who decorate the Homecoming float (this year with Anchor Club's help!). Besides its frequent raids on Anchor Club, Key Club delivered Goodfellow baskets on Christmas Eve morning, collected money for cerebral palsy, earned money for the Wee Care Kindergarten, sold light bulbs and cleaned the parking lot and school grounds periodically.



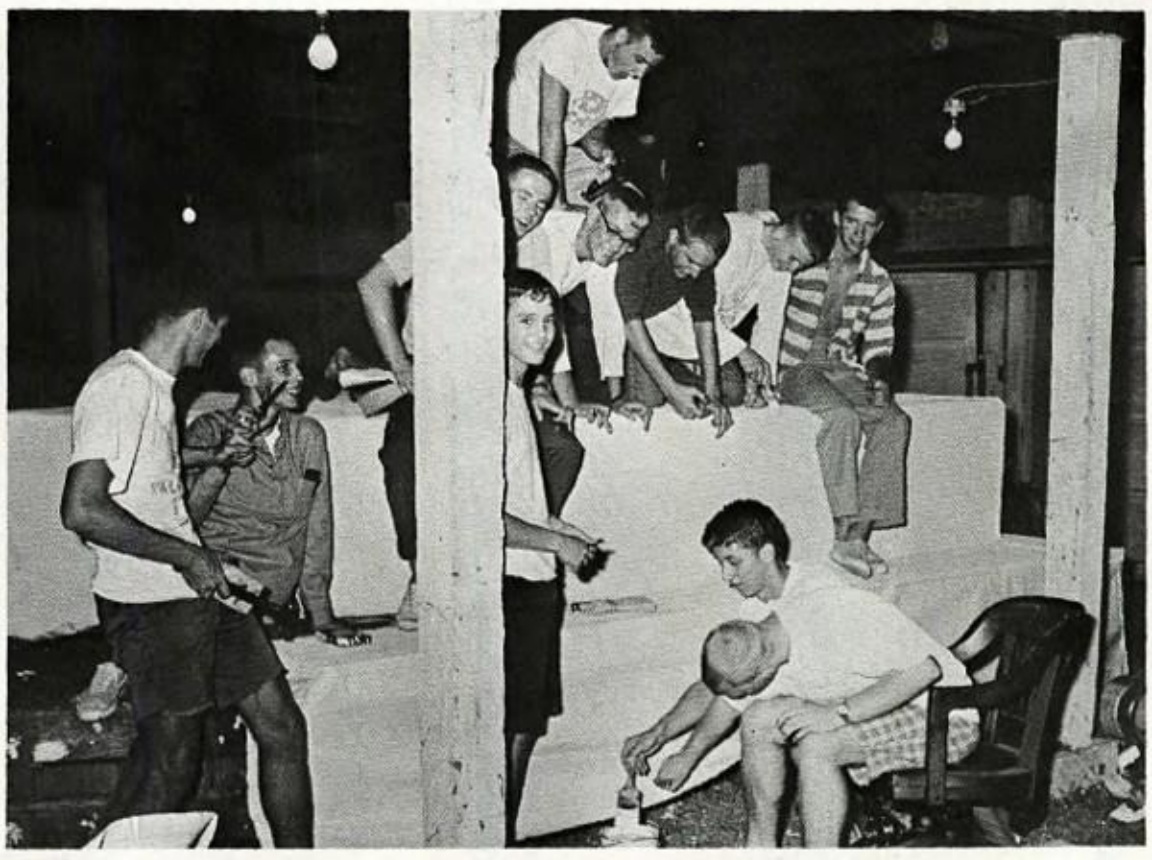
Key Club officers—Clyde Timmons, president; Bud Cousar, vice-president; Colie Dyson, secretary; and Benny Moore, treasurer—prepare to sell light bulbs, Key Club's yearly project.

Frustrated mechanics—Jay Pearson, Sandy Daniel, Frank Weed, Bobby Merritt, Benny Moore, Dickie Sturkie, Bill McWilliams, Bill Johnson, Phil McClary, Les Pilcher, and Joe Patterson—condescend to push an Anchor Club member's car down the hill.

Two Clubs Never Ends

tinger, and Betty Bishop—give Key Club Boys—Ismet Babaoglu, Billy Gunn, Johnny Walther, Mark Sloan, Steve Savitz, Robert Bunch, Mark Archer, Tommy Salane—a mighty hard time.

Decorating the Homecoming float gives Johnny Walther, Mark Sloan, Clyde Timmons, Bud Cousar, Dave Merry, Colie Dyson, Jerry Shealy Johnny Linton, W. D. Morris, Pope Lawson, and Johnny Parker a chance to achieve their ambitions to be great painters.



The N.F.L. officers enjoy lunch and informal conversation before they begin debates. They are Mark Archer, vice-president; Tommy Salane, vice-president; Steve Savitz, president; Carrington Salley, corresponding secretary; Martenza Jones, recording secretary; and Judy Hawkins, publicity.

Mrs. Lupold, Mrs. McKay, and Mr. Musgrove, sponsors of N.F.L., are kept busy polishing trophies won by their outstanding forensic league.

The National Forensic League

Without the National Forensic League, Flora would lose the foundation for some of its achievement. Not only does this club bring honor and prestige to the picture of Flora, but its establishes self-confidence in each participating student. To express oneself and to adhere to one's views and beliefs is one of the most vital steps to success in education, society, and the world. Having a most competent advisor, Mrs. Lupold, N.F.L. has instilled in many students the art of verbal expression.

Out for a gala evening at the annual banquet are the N.F.L. members—Manning Sturkie, Judy Pearce, Libby Anne Ripple, Maryanne Plaxico, Gary Swift, Patty Jenkins, Manning Smith, Scotty Barnes, Jerry DuBose, Bill King, Allen Jeffcoat, Frank Garrick, Sally Pipes, Joan Turbeville, Kathy Cheatham, Cathy Smith, John Califf, Dickie Sturkie, Dolly McGrath, Dawn Giles, Bobby Benson, Fred Osborne, Mrs. McKay, Mr. Musgrove, Mrs. Lupold, Mr. Blum, Miss Sease, Steve Savitz, Carrington Salley, Mark Archer, Martenza Jones, Judy Hawkins, Bobby Salane, Lauren Brubaker, Betty Caldwell, Tommy Bruce, Missy Smoak, Lee McAden, Eddie Brabham, Lavina Smith, Steve Gardner, Mary Byrd, Roma Skeen, Anne Clamp, Ann Rogers, Lansing Kimmey, Edward Woodward, Suzanne Bryant, Joe Garnier, Carolyn Abernathy, Ann Fadeley, Kitty McCaskill, Linda Logan, Mike Niver, Roy Riley, Bruce Robb, Bruce Fraser, Julia Henderson, Ricky Patterson, and Edmund Robinson.

N.F.L. members waited expectantly for Santa Claus, who brought everyone a gift except Bobby Salane. Santa said, "Bobby needs nothing because he has Tommy for a brother!" (Santa was Tommy Salane.)

Winners of the Degree of Excellence and Degree of Distinction—Ricky Patterson, Carrington Salley, Mark Archer, Bobby Salane, Judy Hawkins, Allen Jeffcoat, Steve Savitz, Patty Jenkins, and Tommy Salane—decorate for the N.F.L. banquet.

Many Falcons Gain the Gavel of Assurance Through Speaking

Lauren Brubaker records victories as Bobby Salane, Mark Archer, Steve Savitz, Allen Jeffcoat, and Tommy Salane plan their next debate.

Ricky Patterson introduces a bill at the four state congress sponsored by Flora at the capitol.

J.E.T.S. Club

On Wednesday night there is a great stirring of activity at Flora—the Jets Club meets again. Many excellent speakers have informed Jets Club members about the function of WIS Radio Station and also of an electronic musical instrument called "Therman." This dynamic organization has projected plans for a greenhouse and a FM radio station.

An employee demonstrates to the officers of Jets Club—Cheryl McCoy, state secretary; Kenneth Shull, treasurer; Jeff Abrams, president; Joe Walters, vice-president; and Judy Fischman, secretary—the mechanics of a television station.

Seeing themselves as seen through the television camera is a new experience for Jets members—Missy Smoak, Lauren Brubaker, Bill Pitts, Nancey Jervey, Bill McWilliams, Jackie Schuster, Philip Law, Bill Wald, Cheryl Parsons, Randy Hurteau, Ismet Babaoglu, Harvey Helman, Gene Simpson, Cheryl McCoy, Bill Crown, and Linda Gregory.

Raven McCrory learns the cold, slimy "facts of life" in Florida on one of the club's many field trips.

A warm hello is sent from sunny Florida by Raven McCrory, Martie Daetwyler, Abby McMurray, Peggy Dehamer, Billy Bridgers, Jeff Abrams, Don Tomlin, Alan Jeffcoat, J. R. Fussell, and Kenneth Shull.

Overworked by his "watery" friends, Don Tomlin throws the ball to the porpoises again.

Chorus

Traveling has become "old hat" to the members of the Chorus; they have been to various schools in Columbia, Newberry, Charleston, and Greenville. The "Singing Falcons" have appeared on a television program and have produced a play and many assembly programs.

The Girls Sextet—Leslie Lawrence, Susan Dale Patterson, Joanne Calhoun, Carol Fogle, Peggi Kerlin, and Linda Crosland—entertains at an assembly given by the chorus.

Chorus officers, Joanne Calhoun, President; Tau Carlisle, Vice-President; Linda Crosland, Secretary-Treasurer; Billy Biggs, Program Chairman, enjoy planning as well as singing together.

The Band is an Indispensable Part of the Picture

The band helps shape the name of our school. Its members are Nancy Burkhalter, Connie Hudson, Kathy Burriss, Susan Ahearn, Margie Wise, Cathy Smith, Marilyn Roth, Linda Denny, Linda Shull, Gene Drake, Betsy Peele, Wesley Porterfield, Jay Knowles, Walter Jones, Paul Rogers, Danny Donahue, Ronnie Wilson, Rosemary Byrd, Robert Nichols, Billy Broom, Bruce Fraser, Kathy Brown, Richard Eunice, David Huntley, Winnie Beach, Gordon Hussey, Phil Hinson, Byron Wyndham, Mike Stephens, Tommy Boozer, Terry Yon, Pete Ridgeway, Tom Crowe, Bill Coates, Danny Wray, Jimmy Nelson, Tommy Downing, and Doug Zeller.

Ronnie Wilson, First Lieutenant; Winnie Beach, Head Majorette; Mr. Cecil Johnston, Band Director; and Byron Wyndham, Band Captain, aid in the organization of the band with a cheerful as well as a musical note of leadership.

The A. C. Flora Band

The bell rings and sixth period is here. As the students settle down to their studies, the rhythmic beat of the A. C. Flora band can be heard in the distance. Slowly, yet with a steady pace, the band marches up Falcon Drive. Out on the football field under the sun, Flora's chief musical group practices and drills in order to present to the public a band of which Flora may be proud. There are very few students whose hearts and voices have not risen with the sound of Flora's Alma Mater or "Are You a Falcon!" In a way our band represents the mixed emotions of each maturing student—the pulsation of happy, victorious times at football games, the solemnity of installations, and the loyalty (sometimes accompanied by tears) for our school.

All-State Band

All-State Band members prepare their instruments before practicing for a concert. Linda Denny, Linda Shull, Connie Hudson, seated; and Nancy Burkhalter, Jay Knowles, Susan Ahearn, and Pete Ridgeway, standing, compose this group.

The Falconettes—Marilyn Roth, Linda Shull, Susan Ahearn, Winnie Beach, Cathy Smith, and Louanne Lyles—practice to delight football spectators with a new baton routine.

Attempting to gain opinions from the Falcon's Quill staff, Cheryl McCoy explains her idea. Vigorously arguing and pondering the subject are Tau Carlisle, Merry Anne Burnette, Sally Farrell, Louise Bailey, Cheryl McCoy, Peggy Dehamer, Linda Bateman, Gary Silverfield, Bob Shearin, and Mike Layman.

Falcons' Quills are Always Busy

This year a new addition to the picture of Flora is the chapter of Quill and Scroll, a national journalistic society. On a note of inspiration by Bob Talbert at installation, the charter members decided to write a history of Flora.

Also contributing to the scholastic culture of our school is the literary yearbook staff which compiles the contents of the Falcon's Quill.

Carrington Salley, President of Quill and Scroll.

Treci Aston, Editor of the Falcon's Quill.

The first historians of Flora find that its history is fascinating. Working on this main project are the charter members of Quill and Scroll: Mary Weston, Betsy Daniel, Bob Shearin, Bill Warlick, treasurer; Mary Bistline, Linda Crosland, Julie Winn, Cheryl McCoy, Marshall Lipscomb, Dale Distin, secretary; Merry Anne Burnette, Carrington Salley, president; Doug King, and Linda Hair, vice-president. Absent when picture was made: Ellen DaVega.

The Scarlet Masquers

The Scarlet Masquers, our drama organization, took a great step in the field of drama in December. After careful casting, long rehearsals, busy committees and many cups of coffee, "Our Town," Flora's first dramatic play, was presented in professional style. For two short nights stardom took possession of the gym and twenty-four students became new personalities as they stepped into a small New England town of the early nineteen hundreds.

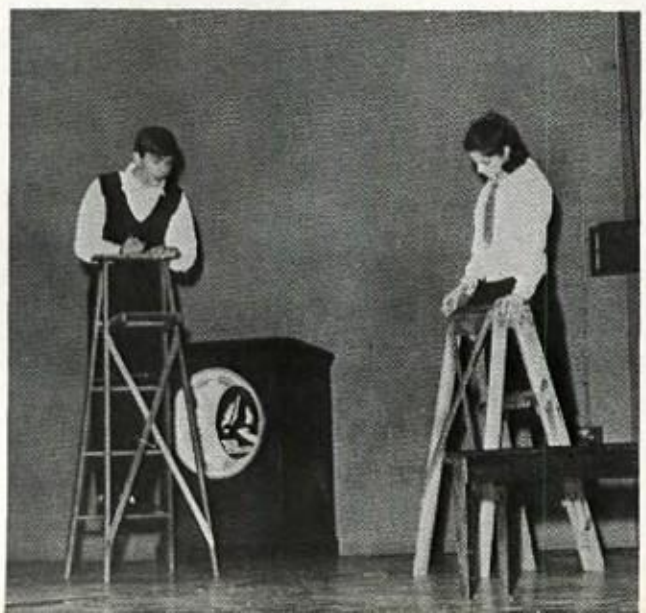
This year Flora installed a chapter of the National Thespian Society. This marked Flora as one of the first schools in South Carolina to form such an organization. The members were selected on the basis of a point system according to their dramatic participation and interest.

After weeks of practicing to "stay in character," Donald Devet, "Our Town" stageman-ager, finds it hard to act his usual self as he awaits his cue.

The Stage is Set with "Our Town"

Bill Warlick, Program Chairman; Leigh Tanner, Secretary; Diane Jenkins, Vice-President; Linda Denny, Treasurer; and Vickie Eslinger, President, shower Mrs. D. Thelen, drama sponsor, with grins of appreciation as they present her with a tangible memory of the play.

George (Tom Garick) and Emily (Cheryl Parsons) exchange homework notes from their imaginary second story bedroom windows.



Bill Warlick seems to have gotten gray hairs not only through character make-up but also from midnight rehearsals.

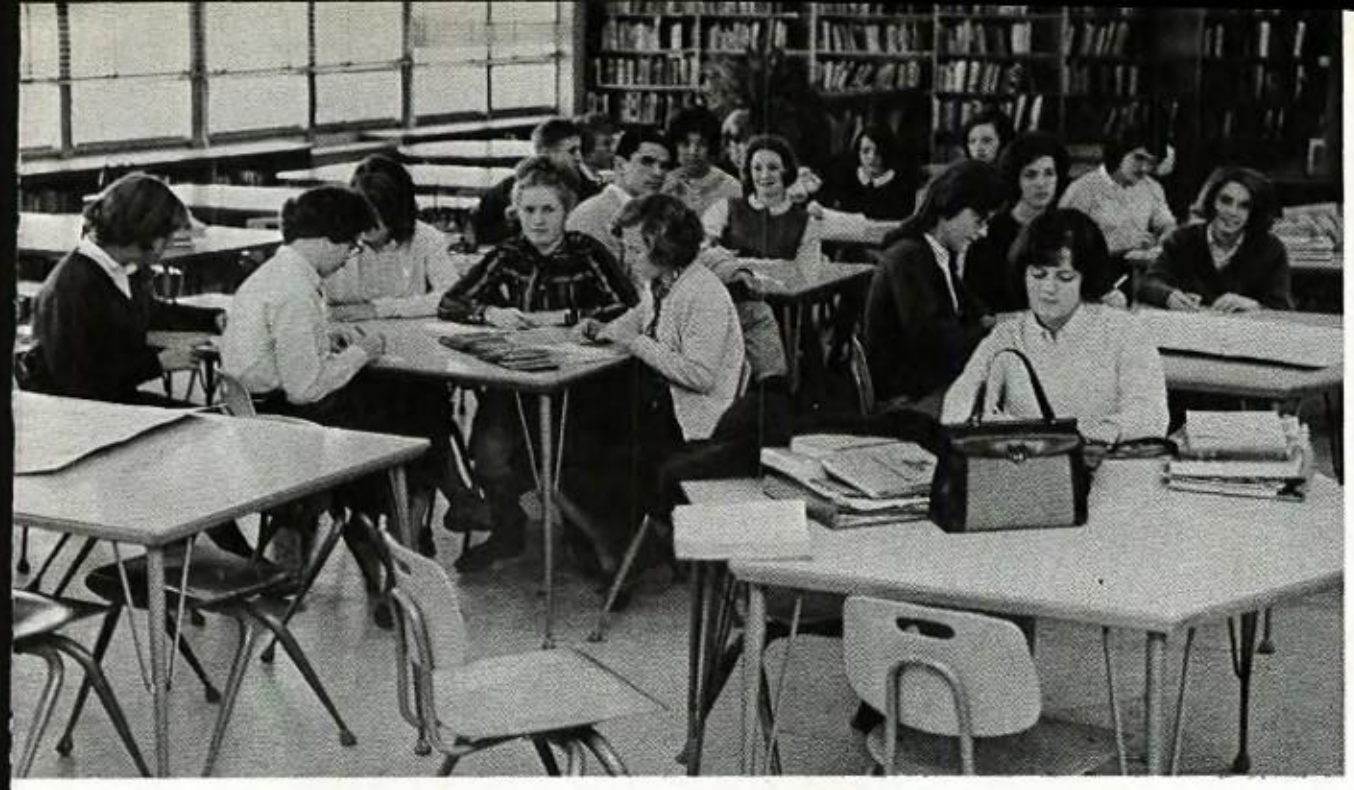
En route to a meeting the Social Cabinet—Lucy Geiger, Logan Drake, Diane Jenkins, Kaye Shealy, Rodney Kinsey, Donna Peters, Harriette Diehl, Johnnie Gay Martin, Edmund Robinson, George Wise, Laird McMurray, Sharon Homberger, Mildred Moore, Bill Johnson, Tommy Hepher, Dan Ellis, Sherry Gomez, Sandy Daniel—take one last backward glance before they plan to take the social activities of the school forward.

Pam Shealy, Joyce Short, Judy Fischman, Lucy Geiger, Ansley Scoville, David Ross, and Randy Strange of the Art Council arrange and prepare their art exhibits.

These Groups Add a Sparkle to Falconland

Hall monitor, Howard Parker, directs traffic through the proper door.

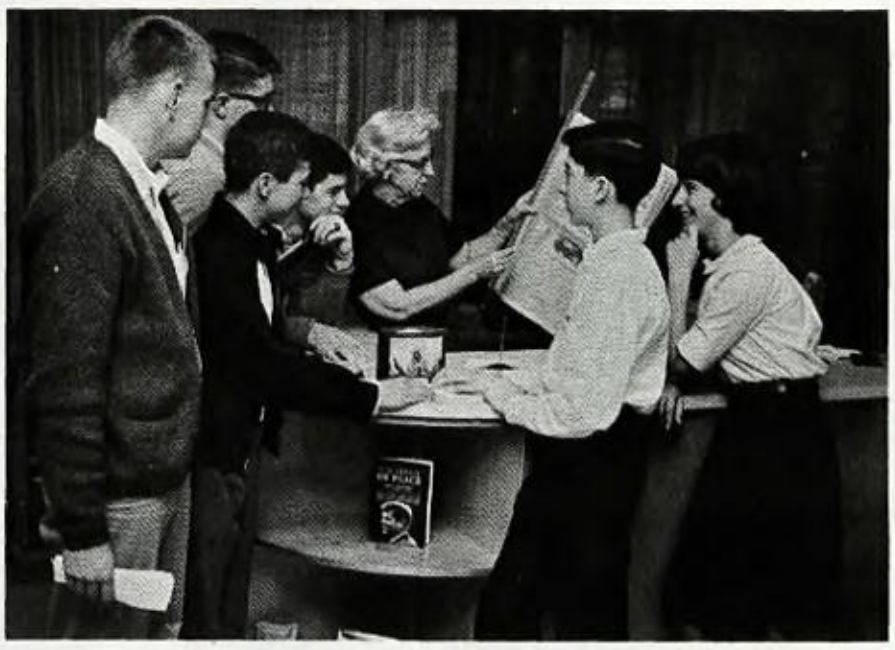
Members of the Art Council—Betsy DeVane, David Ross, Lucy Geiger, Judy Hicks, Ansley Scoville, and Judy Fischman—are enthusiastic over the new arts and crafts department.



As they fill out overdue notices, Library Representatives Linda Braudie, Dianne Sturkie, Doris Evans, Caroline Graham, Byron Wyndham, Mary Ruth Fraser, Hoppy Hanson, Ramona Doughty, Susan Ahearn, Kathy Knight, Donna Jo Moon, Lease Fouche, Charlotte Hammond, Susan Creighton, Diane Kennedy, Linda Crowder, Mary Pat Bailey, and Sherri Sykul—serve as coordinators between the homerooms and the library.

Library Helpers Work Among Stored Knowledge

Under the guidance of Miss Jones and Mrs. Bright, the students working in the library, learn much about the smoothness and efficiency with which a library functions.



Library Representatives—Billy Gunn, Richard Draffin, George Graab, Billy Neal, Jack Mendel, and Betty Caldwell—discuss the day's news with Miss Jones.

Brightening the Commons with an informative and interesting bulletin board are Margaret Wilson, Evelyn Frings, Barbara Warren, Mary Byrd, and Kristine Chandler.

Barbara Adams, Sandy Smith, Diane Medlin, Susan Quick, and Susan Dale Patterson arrange and straighten the never-ending rows of books.

Students Prepare for the "Future" World

Flower arranging is found to be fun by the Future Homemakers of America—Von Thompson, Kristine Chandler, Charlotte Hammond, Linda Nipper, Anne Bailey, Sandra Kerns, Sally Connelly, Julia King, Mary Beth Marshall, Linda Bickler, Mary Margaret Frick, president, and Mary Evans.

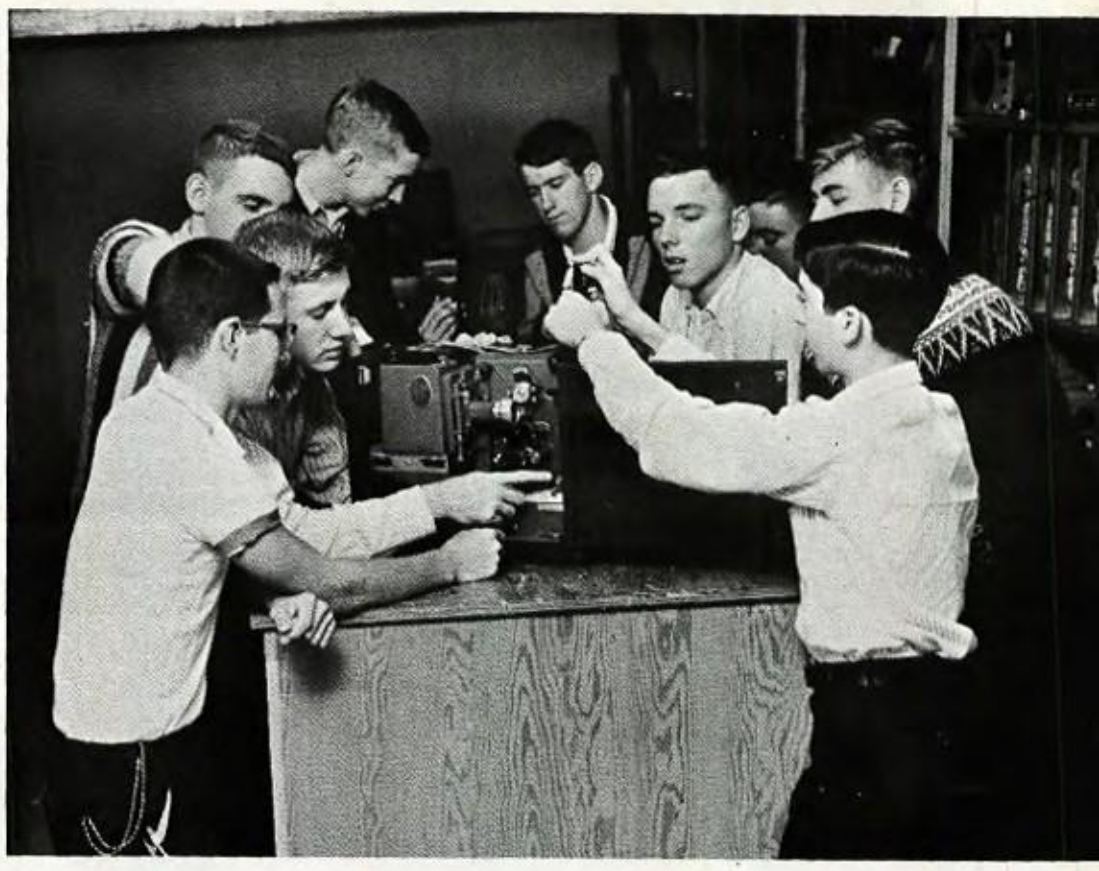
In the home of one of the future teachers Mr. John Hughes, speaker, "breaks the ice" by teasing a member of his audience. Future Teachers of America are Linda Gregory, Louise Bailey, Erika Helfer, Dick Bonner, Rose Anne Rivkin, Connie Hudson, Vicky Fins, Jo Anne Schall, Ilsa Kohn, Gene Drake, Linda Eargle, Diane Sturkie, Meredith Collins, Susan Dale Patterson, Mary Epting, Louanne Lyles, Frances Fenzel, Dianne Bates, Kay Kellogg, Mrs. Mildred Causey, sponsor, and Donna Muir, president

The voices of P.A. announcers—Ellen DaVega, Bobby Johnson, Donald Devet, and Vicki Eslinger—"start the morning rolling" with the news of the school's routine.



The mechanically inclined audio-visual aids assistants—Wesley Porterfield, Byron Wyndham, Billy Benson, Arthur Brown, Tex Brennison, David Helps, Ronald DeHart, Joe Julian, and Jack Mendel—repair a school projector.

Students are Vital in Working Mechanism of Flora

Office Assistants—Charlotte Hammond, Arthur Brown, Jack Mendel, Olivia Carter, Jerva Watson, Rosemary Gay, Linda Bateman, Debbie Paenter, Christy Bolin, Teresa Fraylick, Jim Nelson, and David Helps—seem to do "everything possible" when they are on duty in the office.

Sports

If education in the form of sports were ever erased from the picture of our school, a great and obvious space would remain. Much of our spirit and "fight for the falcon" would wane and linger only limply. A sport builds not only strength in strong bodies but also strength in sound characters. The five-second decision made before a ball is snapped, the face-to-face encounter with defeat, and the perseverance of practice before achievement are all lessons learned on the athletic field. A chance to be equal, to release explodable energy, and to express determination, all constitute the unending war to be the best—"to be an athlete".

Football Team

Two bottles of anesthetic plus a double dose of spirit complete the equipment as Bobby Hart, trainer, and managers, Bill McConnell and Skip Hartley, pack for an out-of-town game.

Assistant coach, Mr. Jerry Redman, listens attentively as Mr. Pinkerton, head coach, schedules plans for the annual football banquet.

Fights for the Falcon

A lesson, not taught in any book or classroom, is learned on our football field every fall afternoon. Boys, who have already lived through a day of study and mental work, leave the gym and lumber toward the practice field. Little spirit appears in their souls; however, when they hit that field, all the apathy vanishes. In a united circle, the boys, all in red jerseys, radiate an air of equality. Beginning with their exercises, these players shout in an almost musical manner to the count. They seem to express between the "one . . . two . . . three . . . four" the mutual reason for their being on the drill field every afternoon.

Jim Pinkerton

A boy's smile is no bigger than his achievements. Bill Johnson, winner of the Thom McAn Award, and Permon Chavious, representative to the Shrine Bowl, seem to have rather large grins.

J.V. Coaches, Mr. Al Hough and Mr. Warner Montgomery, receive presents at the football banquet as guest "Emcee", Bob Talbert, looks on.

"I will follow you, wherever you may go" illustrates the motto of the loyal J.V. cheerleaders Beronica Morris, Head Cheerleader Toni Gray, Judy Humphrey, Marty Childs, and Donna Peters.

Junior Falcons Begin to See Days on "Big Varsity"

Each year interest is given to the abilities and skill of our Junior Varsity team for it provides reinforcement for the wide gaps that will be left when Flora loses our senior players next year.

These boys have practiced whole-heartedly and unfailingly to work as a team in order to fill and to form our future varsity. Playing their home games in Flora's "backyard", the J.V.'s have supplied Flora with a 6-2-1 record—a factual statement of their future success.

B-Squad Learns What Teamwork Can Mean

From our sister schools, Keenan and Crayton, have come the ninth graders that train for the B-Squad football team. To some of them this team is their first link with Flora and high school life. Taught the lessons of fairplay by their coaches, the B-Squad players have expressed through their hard work and determination the loyalty that they already possess for "the falcon spirit."

J.V. manager, Stuart Clarkson, with B-squad managers, Robin Ashmore and Billy Lowry, arrive for a game.

B-squad coaches, Mr. Joe Weathers and Mr. Robert Ellenberg, hold the development of young men as well as a football in their hands.

The basketball team has certainly proved their skill and the fact that they are a "five-man team" every minute of action. First Row: Bobby Giles, Bobby Merritt, Donnie Kinsey, Tommy Garvin, Mac Rhine, Benny Moore, and Billy Gunn. Second Row: W. D. Morris, John Lown, Frankie Lemond, Frank Weed, Billy Neal, Bobby Dawkins, Allen Tinder, Rodney Kinsey, Johnny Walthers, and Ray Twork.

Bobby, I have enjoyed knowing you the last 2 years. Hope we can play some golf some day. Best wishes Al Hough

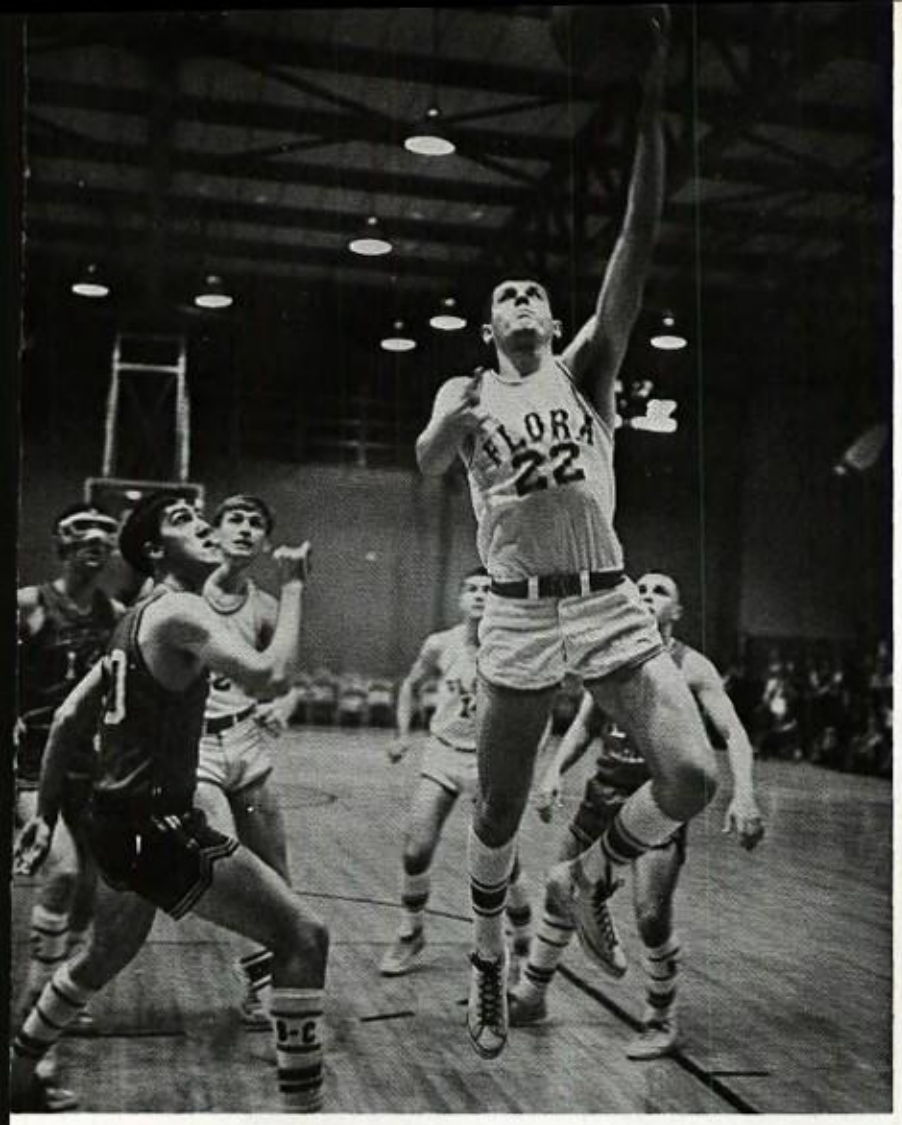
Basketball Team Is a "Winner"

Mr. Al Hough, coach, is not only tall in stature but also in coaching ability.

The rafters of Flora's gym shake with the vibrations of clapping and cheering. As soon as the players appear, the crowd instantly rises in an expression of support and assurance. This basketball year, to many will never be forgotten. To proud fathers it meant grins and handshakes . . . to anxious mothers it meant nervous anticipation and relieved concern . . . to some girls it meant giving continual encouragement to "their" boys . . . to cheerleaders it meant sneaking to each player's house at night to deliver secretly a sign of personal backing . . . to all it meant victory and admiration. Everyone at Flora will agree that the support and enthusiasm for our team has grown and flown with the soaring Falcon this year.

And no one will ever forget beating Dreher in the Regional Tournament!

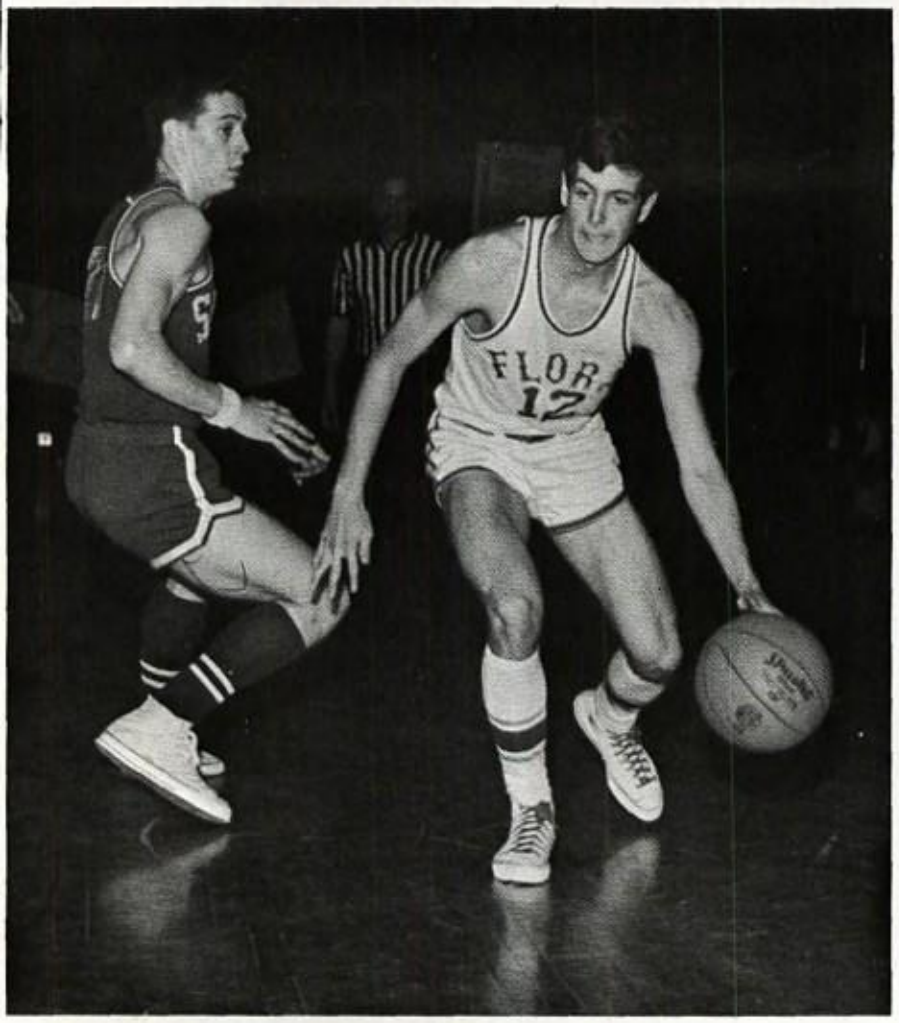
Giving an occasional pat of encouragement and a hand of assistance, Alan Weis, manager, is an indispensable part of the team.



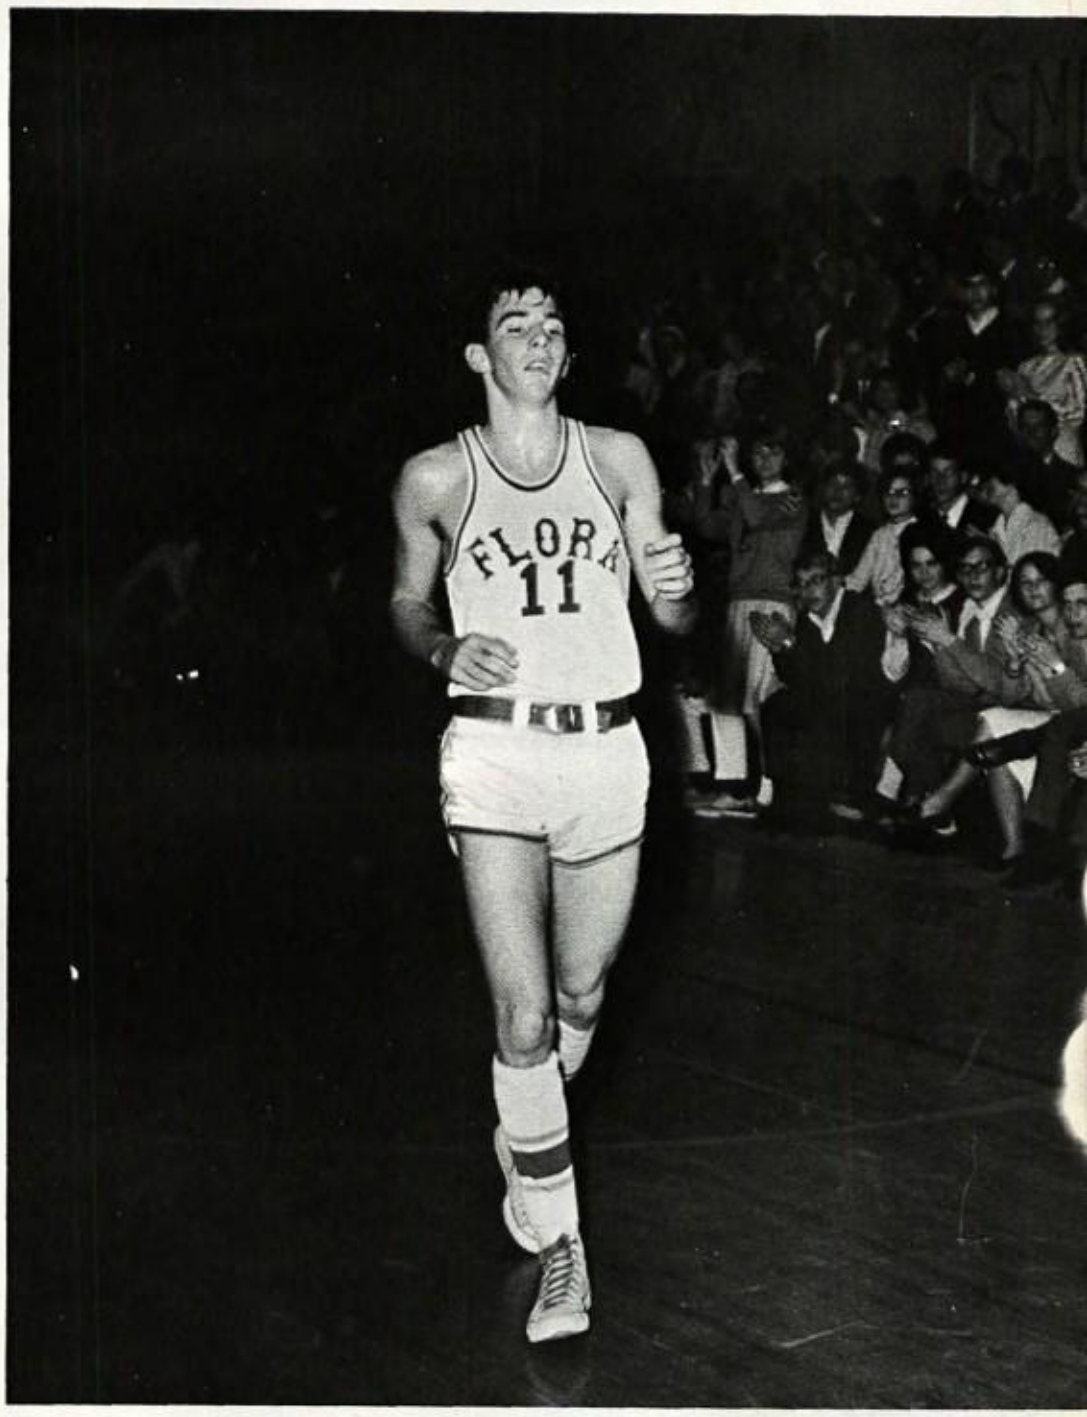
Frankie Lemond has popped balls in the basket with surprising skill and coolness.

Hard Work Is Exchanged for Two Trophies

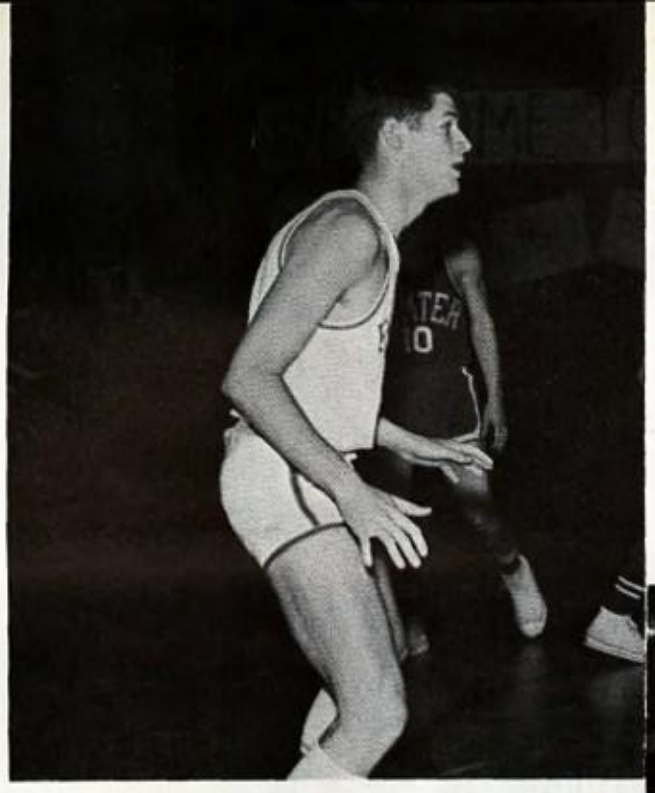
The basketball team has racked up an outstanding record of 19-7 through the term of this ball year. Being a team that has assorted abilities and skill blended together, these boys have climbed to great heights. After winning the Regional Tournament in a thrilling game against Dreher High School, the team went on to Spartanburg for the State Championship Tournament. The cheerleaders plus the student body followed their boys all three nights as Mr. Hough and his team got to the final game. Losing to Greenville only in score, the players came "home" second in the state . . . to us they had won!



Donnie Kinsey has really put that ball in from the corners.



Bobby Merritt has added that determined defensive fight that all teams need.



Johnny Walthers has served the team with his skill as well as spirit.

J. V. Players Display Potential and Skill

As the Junior Varsity plays before the varsity at each game, so does it play and train before receiving full pass to glory on the varsity. These players look into the future days when they will attain the cool skill and calmness of an experienced player.

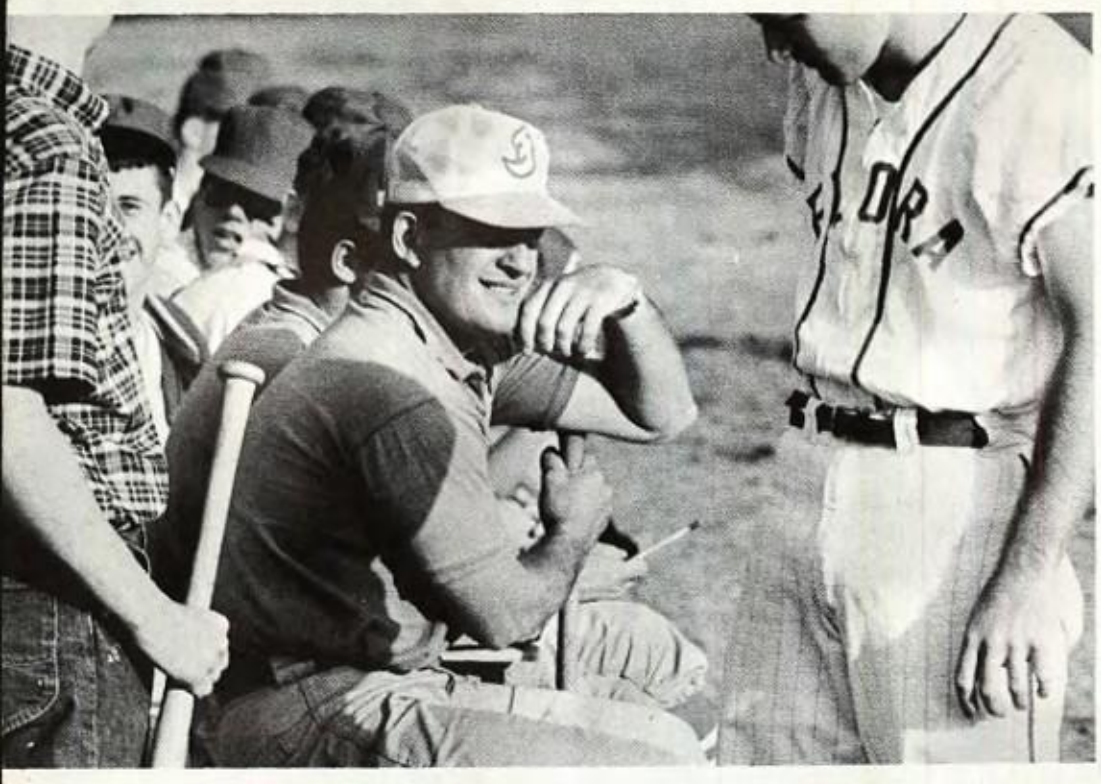
All these abilities come through a period of incessant training, practice, and indomitable determination; all these come through constant loyalty for Flora.

In the end the players have learned there are great rewards!

Tony Herman, manager, straightens the locker room before assisting the players at a game.

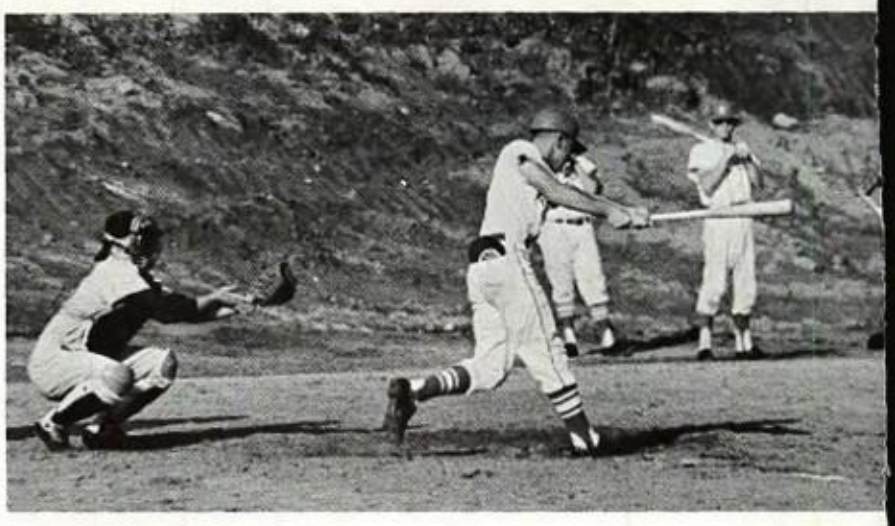
Mr. Jerry Redman, J.V. basketball coach, gives words of instruction to one of his boys.

These outstanding athletes have gained a record of 8-4 during their season. Kneeling are Bill Edgerton, Gerald Black, Chris Barry, Joey Gillis, Steve Darling, and Phil Rhine. Standing are Fred Crowe, Pat Tomlin, Richard Draffin, Rudy Robinson, Johnny Kelly, Luke Lentz, Tommy Hepher, and Ray Murphy.



With the coaching ability of Jim Pinkerton, Flora always has a fine baseball team.

Manager Michael Watson, stops his work during an exciting moment in the Columbia High game.



Batting ability and form is demonstrated by this falcon.

Baseball Team

Baseball comes at that time of the year when heads and hearts are light and gay. The cracking of bats and hum-drum of baseball heckling become familiar sounds from Flora's field. The hot sun draws drops of perspiration to the faces of a hard-working, hard-playing, team—one of great strength and ability. Proud mothers, along with many students, gather to watch the games in the afternoons. This support plus success adds up to make a worthwhile sum of achievement.

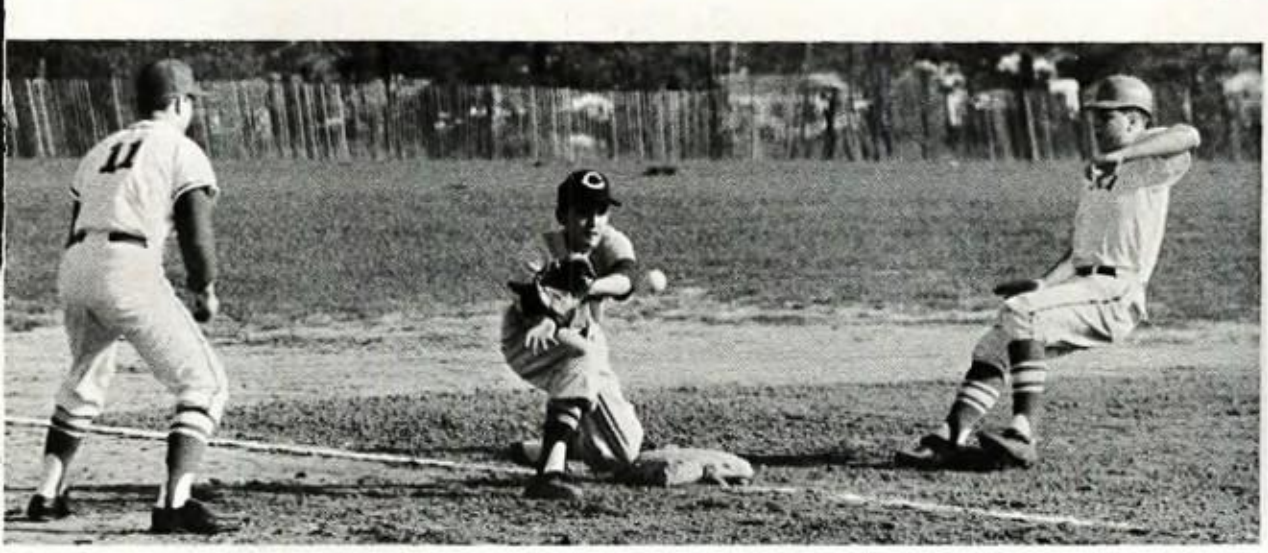
David Dunlap rounds third base to come "home".

Catcher, Ray Murphy, digs low to grab the ball.

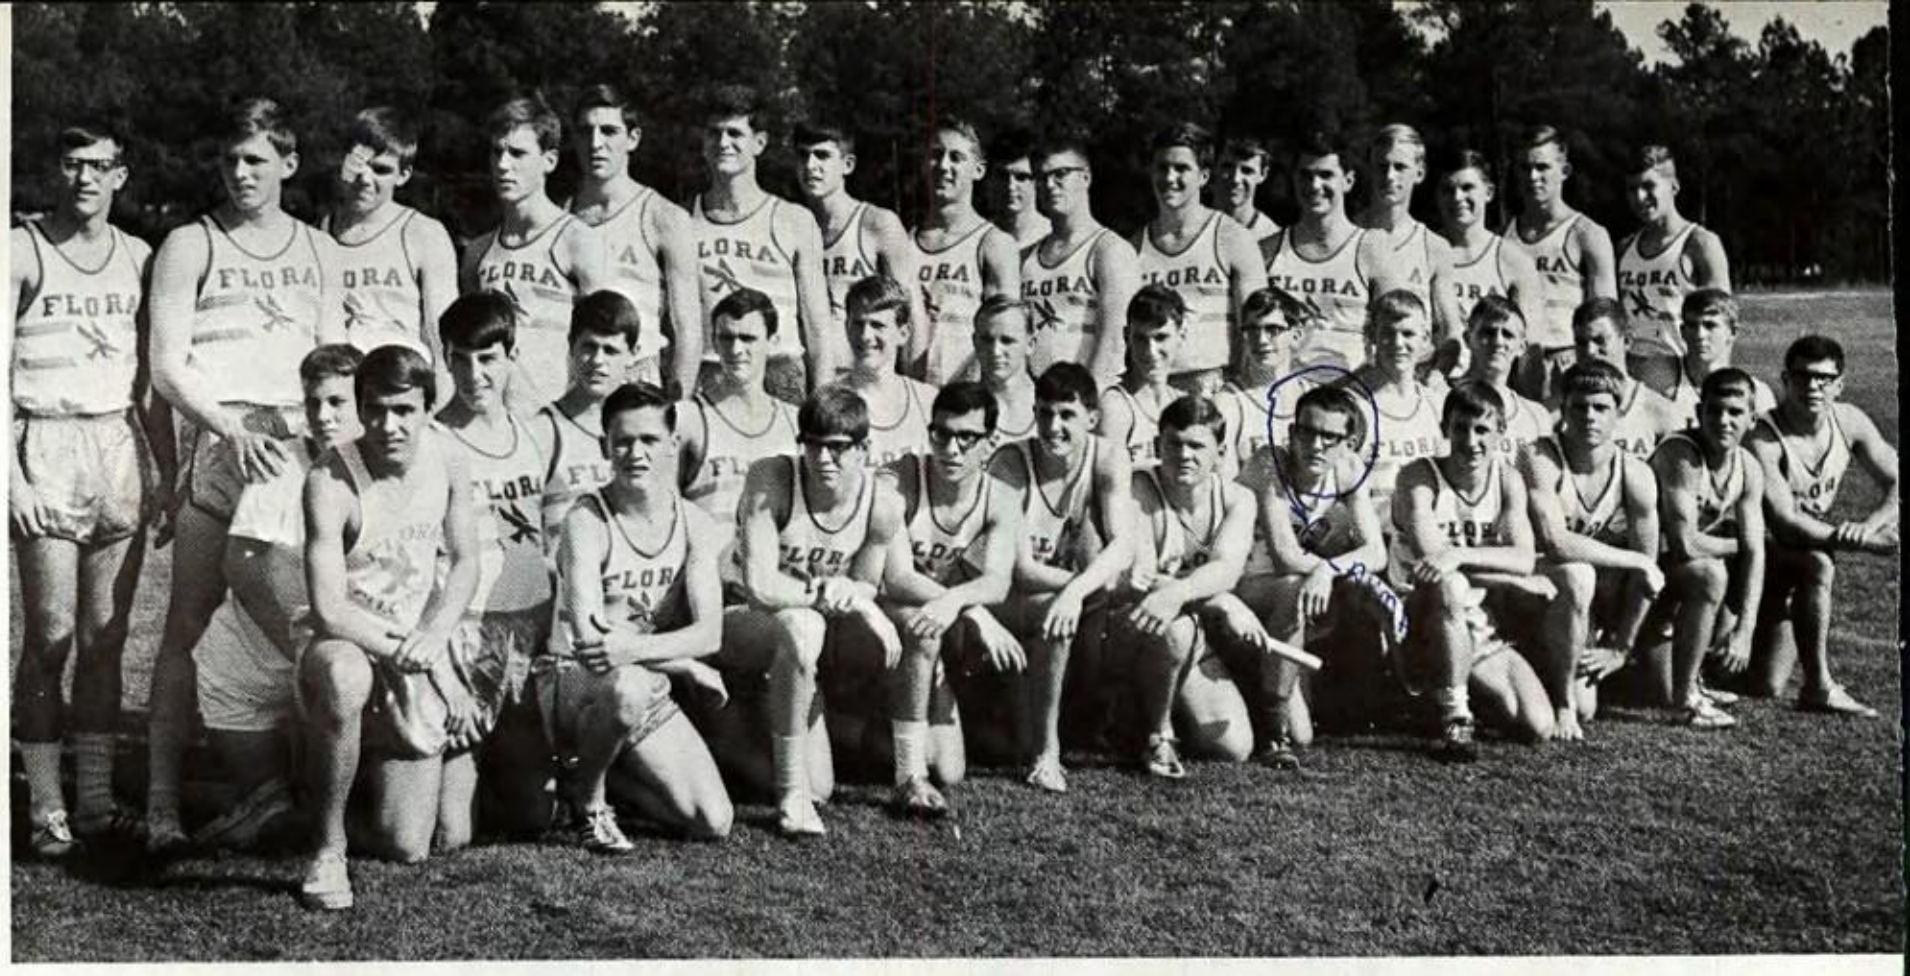
Flora Is Represented by a Large Team



Art Fusco gets a little closer to home base with each hit.

Ace pitcher prepares to strike out a Columbia High Cap.

Shortstop moves fast to tag Number 6 out.



The track team proves to be a well-balanced squad. They are Wesley Harrell, Joe Williams, Frank Fusco, Jack Whitten, Frank Little, Ronnie Asbill, Greg Layman, Robert Cely, Dan Ellis, Billy DuPre, and Cary McDaniel; Francis Burriss, Clinch Heyward, Ken Daetwyler, Tom Sturdivant, John Barr, Larry Griner, Paul Derrick, George Fairey, Fred Crowe, Marion Stafford, Charles Davis, and John Brantley; Ricky Praete, Jay Pearson, Pete Holland, Dana Mitchell, John Lown, Johnny Walther, Luke Lentz, Pope Lawson, Carter Weston, Jack Edgerton, Bill Johnson, W. D. Morris, Hoppy Hanson, Barry Moore, Carl Elmgren, Benny Moore, and Norman Williams.

Track Team

This year the track team is composed of almost seventy-five per cent underclassmen, and it enjoys a great deal of depth. Each boy is a specialist in his field and conditions every day "to keep in shape" for a good season. Every afternoon as most Falcons leave school, they can see these boys jogging around this area of Columbia doing this "work"; the question of why they spend their afternoons like this is answered as a vaulter vaults a little higher, a runner breaks the tape a little faster, or the weight man puts the shot a little farther.

Managers, Clyde Fraser and "Tex" Brennison, and trainer, Mike McIntosh, are always ready to lend a helping hand to reach the goals of the team.

Track Coaches, Mr. Bill Carson and Mr. Jerry Redman, give instructions to an anxious runner.

Dear Bobby:
I am so glad Ricky had someone like you to take care of him this year during football. He might not have had his dedrussion. We Ricky & have really enjoyed [illegible] you. Be Good [illegible] you this summer.

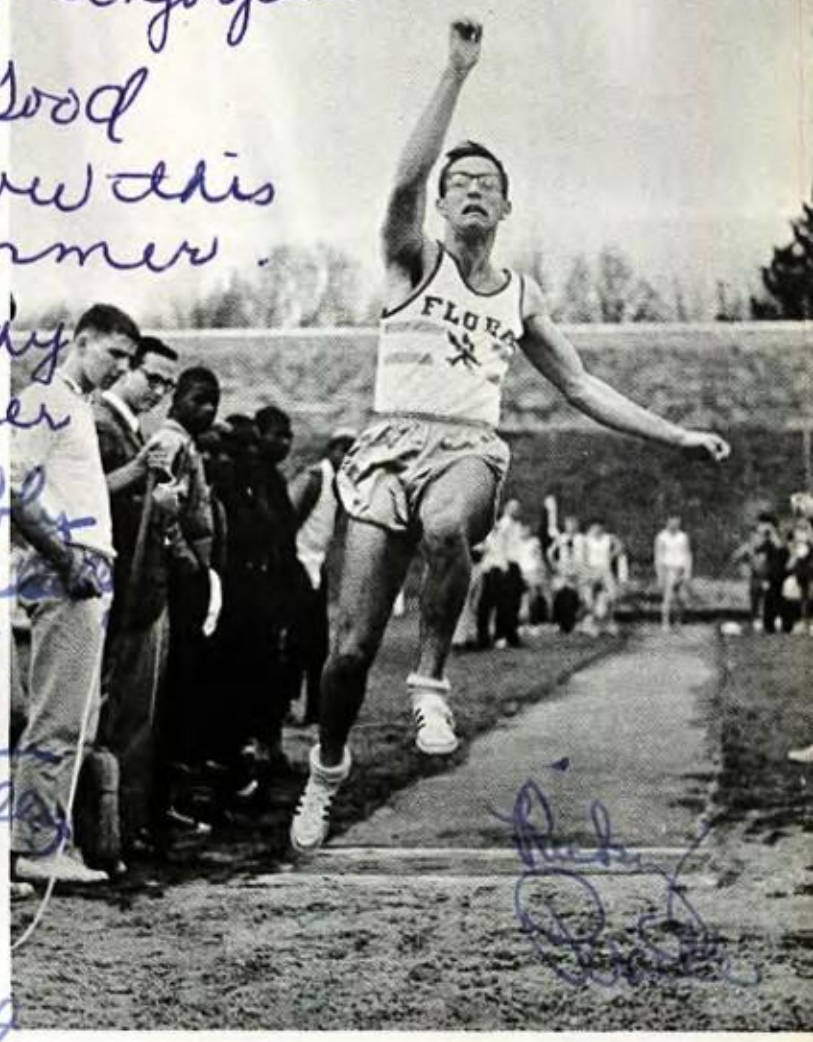
Ronnie Asbill and Pope Lawson break the tape as they speed ahead of their competitors.



In a city track meet, Ricky Praete leaps into a successful broad jump.

Great Depth of Skill Is Exchanged for Success

Performing the difficult high jump, Johnny Walthers breaks the record of all past falcons' attempts.

Just about to send the discus soaring, Carl Elmgren tries hard to support his team as Larry Griner and Bill Johnson wait their turn.

Golf Team

The golf team has grown into a definite part of Flora's athletic atmosphere, and it has added much. When spring arrives, the sight of a golf bag leaning in the corner of a room is no longer an unfamiliar sight at Flora. Mr. Raymond Coxe, sponsor, supervises the practices and matches at Spring Valley Country Club.

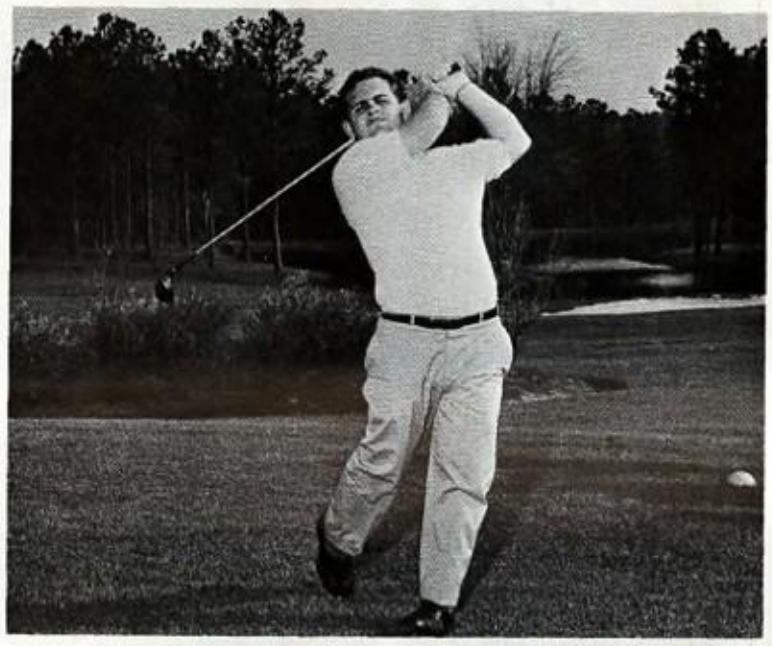
These Teams Have Grown Through Experience

Bobby Foster's accomplishments as a junior golfer include placing fifth in the International Jr. Golf Tournament in St. Paul, Minnesota.

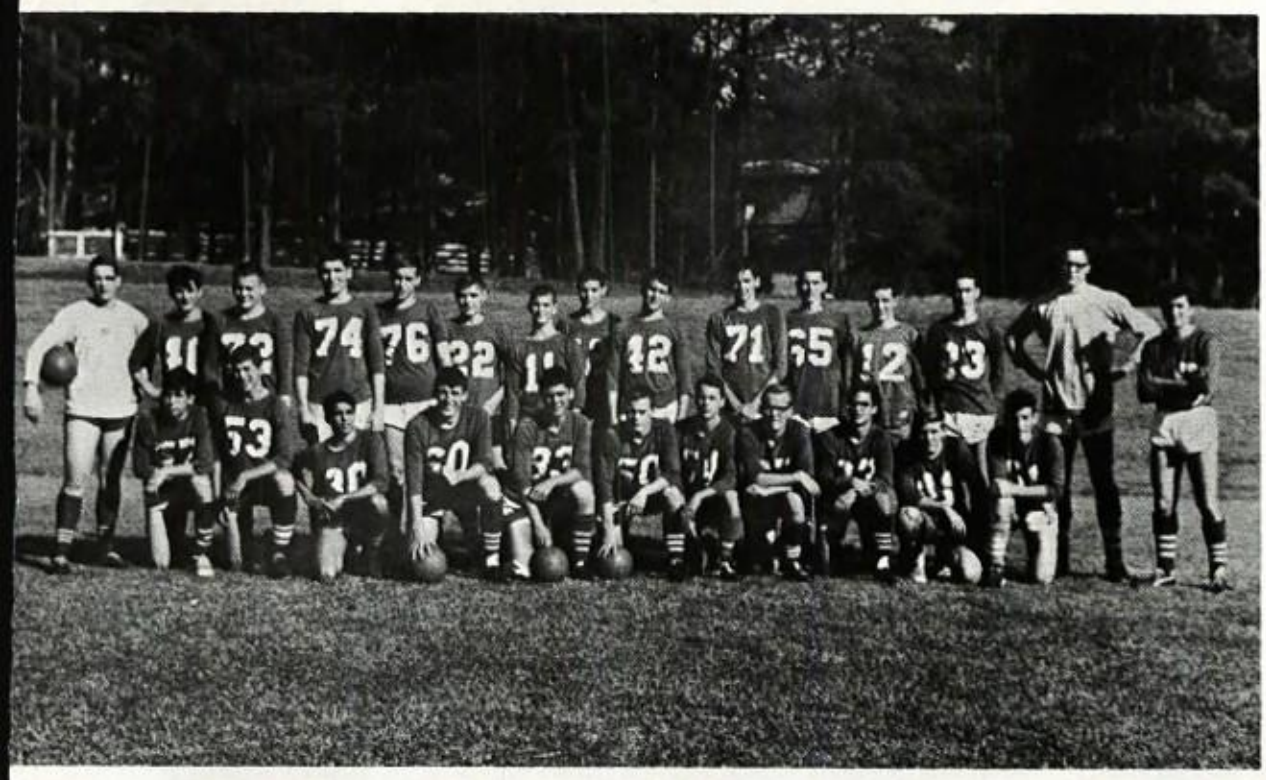


Team captain, Allan Pregnall, serves a high ball on Flora's own court.

With each match the tennis team serves Flora. The tennis players are Newton Hornsby, Burke Dial, Tom Bell, Johnny Wingfield, Allan Pregnall, David Belser, Buddy Dulin, and Ricky Thomas.

Tennis Team

Even though this is just the second year that Flora has had a tennis team, it has acquired a great addition of players, experience, and a new sponsor, Mr. David Wertz. When most of the other sports are over for the year, tennis carries the athletic phase of our school on until summer.



Soccer Team

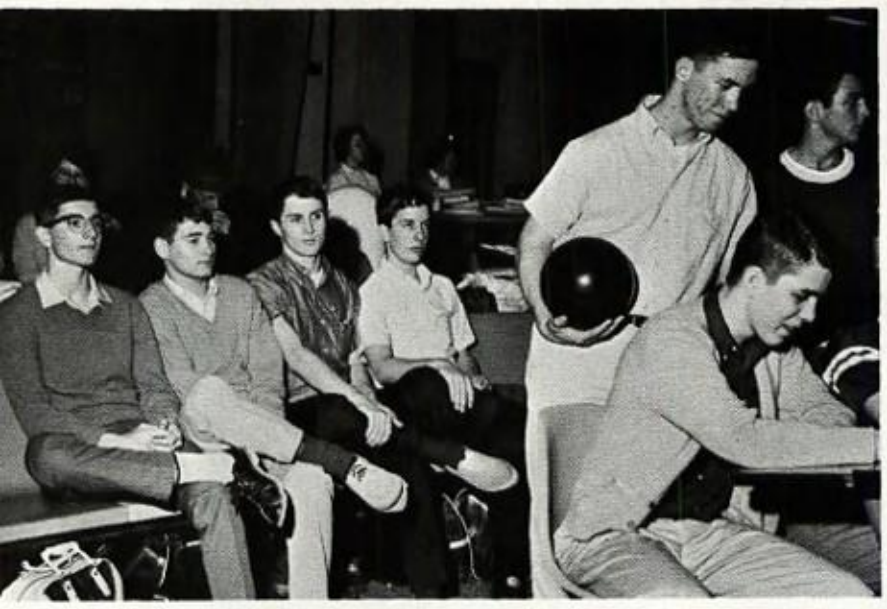
Flora's "Latest" in the Field of Sports

Linda Dodson, Diane Kennedy, and Teresa Fraylick enjoy competing against other schools as part of Flora's bowling team.

Although all three of these teams—the soccer, bowling, and swim teams—are a new addition to a growing Flora, they have already proven their determination to excel. Because ours is a large school, it is necessary to cater to many different interests. With the start of these new teams the Falcons intend to do just this.

Bowling Team



The bowling team—Gary Tracy, Danny Ray, Sammy Boger, Chuck White, Ken Williams, and Ricky Melchoir —added another trophy to Flora's achievements by winning the city championship.

Swim Team

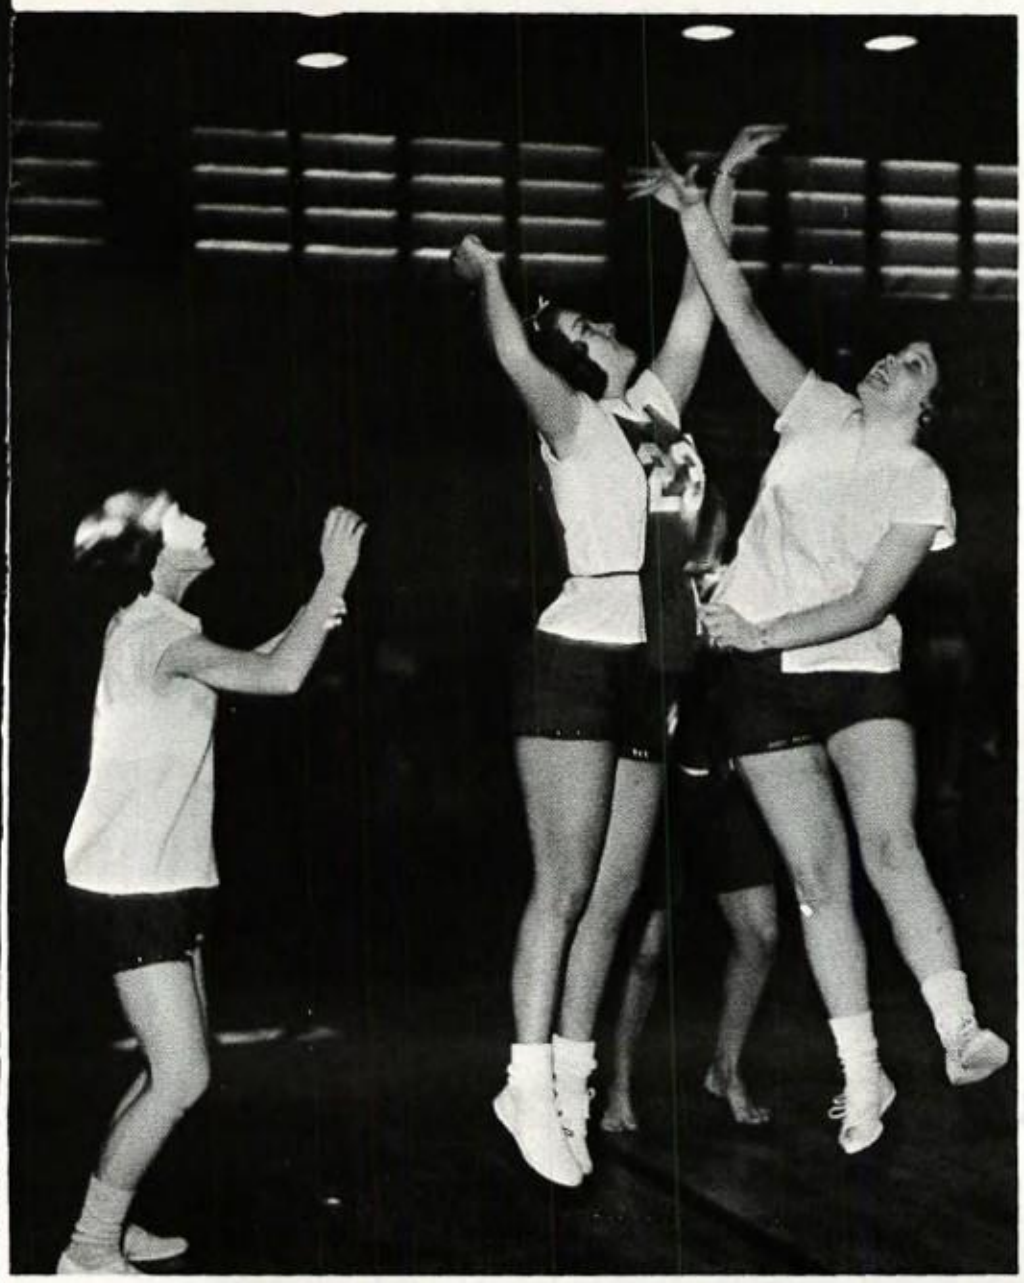
Paused after a tiring practice is Flora's new swimming team—Ken Karnes, Gaston Fairey, and Jim Ratliff.

Girls' Athletic Association

This organization gives a chance for the "feminine athletes" of our school to participate in the game of sports. Filling a need for physical exertion, G.A.A.'s gives each girl a way to have fun and fellowship with other classmates in afternoon games and tournaments. A drive of determination to achieve and excel makes every member play a hard and fair game each time. In meeting defeat and success, these girls strive for co-ordination and teamwork in their sports as well as in their lives.

Mrs. Sue Marshall and Mrs. Gene Coggeshall serve as the backbone for the organization that encourages girls to participate in sports.

G.A.A.'s provide an afternoon of fun for Remona Doughty, Ruth Weisberg, Mary Beth Marshall, Maurine McCurry, Jane Adams, Paula White, Jackie Gerdes, Mary Evans, Karen Marshall, Judy Adams, Tina Morris, Pam Spalding, Diane Taylor, Mary Turner, Peggy Macmillan, and Susan Ardis.



Afternoon basketball games become exciting as the tension rises.

Archery is an interesting springtime sport.

Beauties

Aesthetic beauty is never lacking in any form of art. Dignity and poise subdue the tones of color in each piece of the picture, and beauty adds an ease and gracefulness as the pieces fall into their changeful places. A personable appearance attracts the eye and urges it to look deeper for inner beauty and quality. A sincere and gentle elegance is the expression of this piece of Flora.

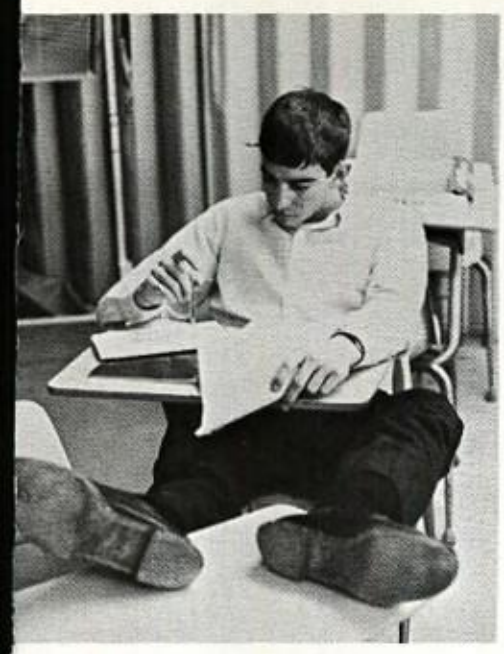
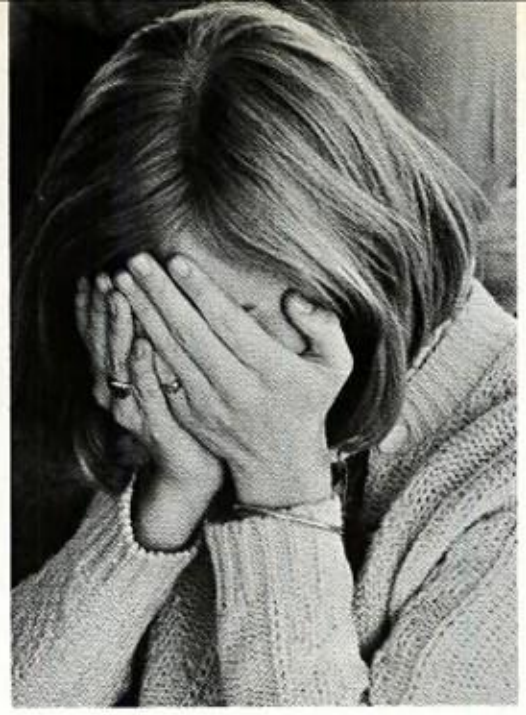
Intangible

This last section adds the final and indispensable piece to the kaleidoscope of Flora. Its color is one of great beauty and inconceivable brightness—radiating into infinity a splendid magnificence. This piece is impossible to express for it is four years of spirit, friendship, worry, anticipation, joy, depression, victory, and defeat. It is our grasping for the value and perspective of passing things. It is the desire to know that the little things are little and the big things are big, before it is too late; to see things now as they will seem forever—in the light of eternity. It is the intangible . . . it is ours.

Here's to thee, dear A. C. Flora,

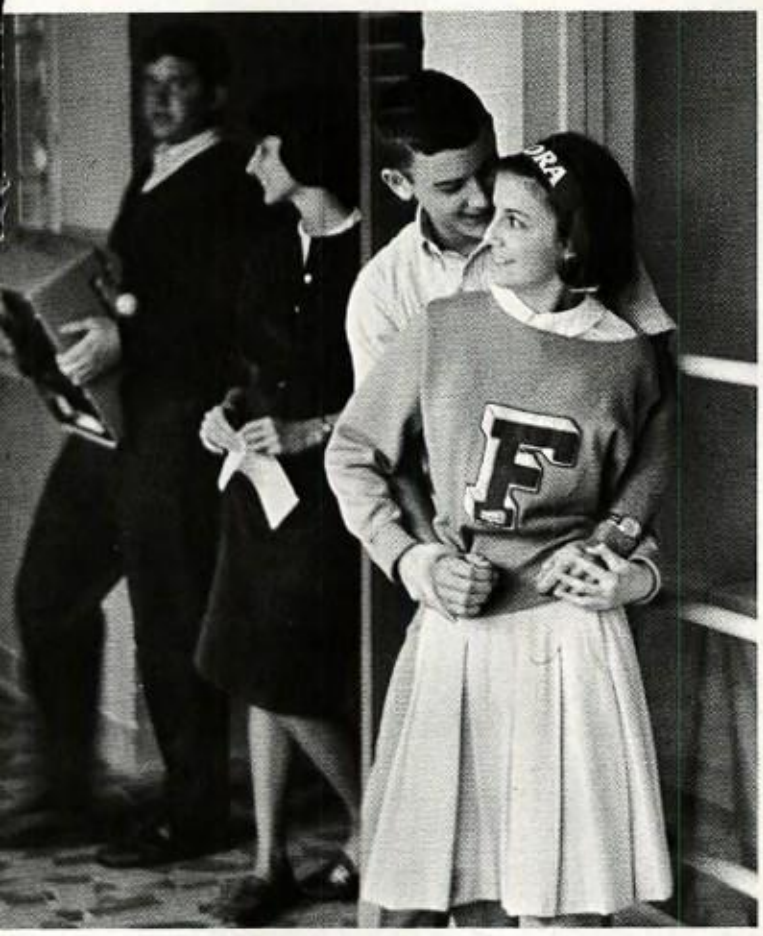
Grateful students, one and all,

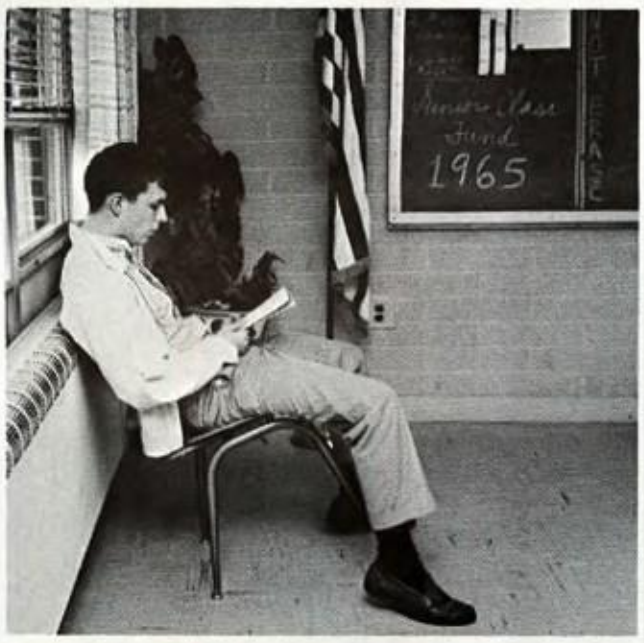




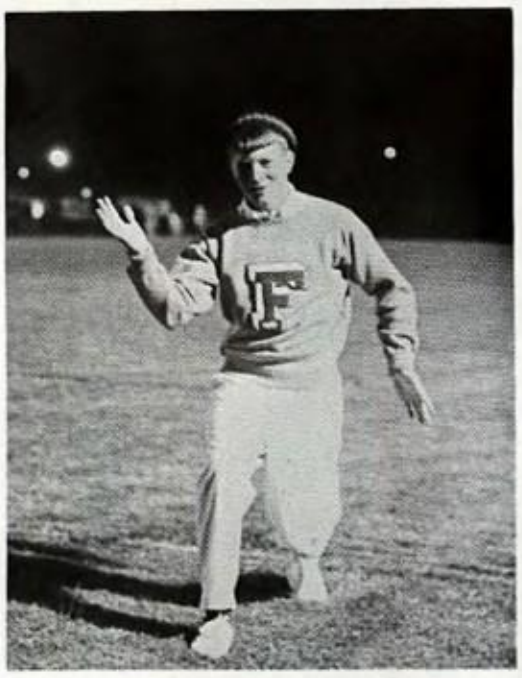
Sing a song of praise and glory

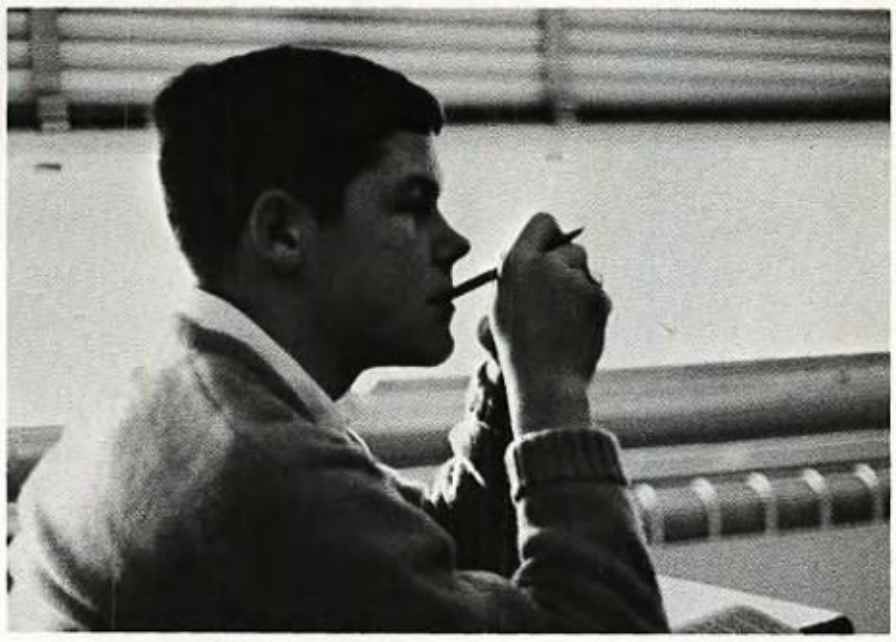
That resounds from hall to hall.

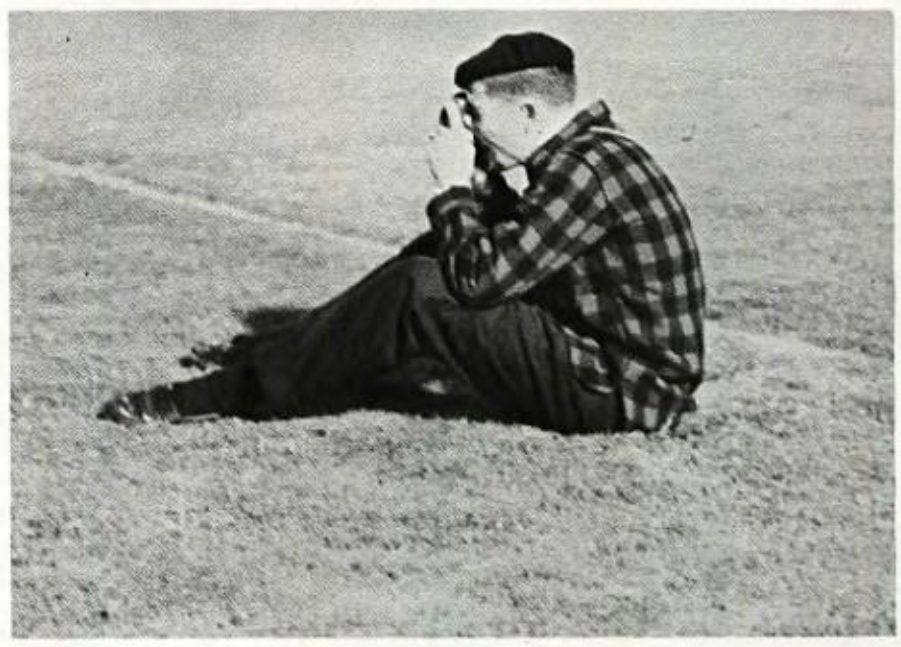




Towards the goals of peace and learning
Through thy noble paths we're led





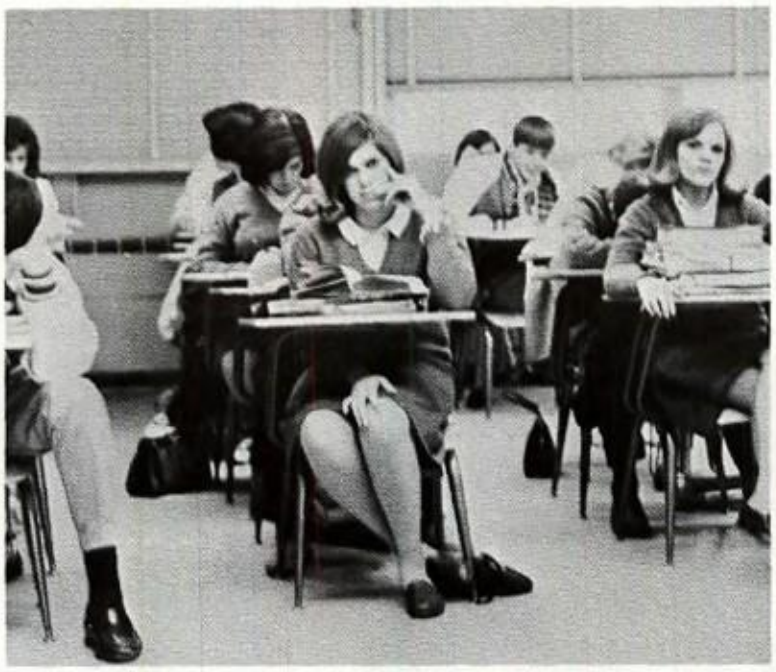


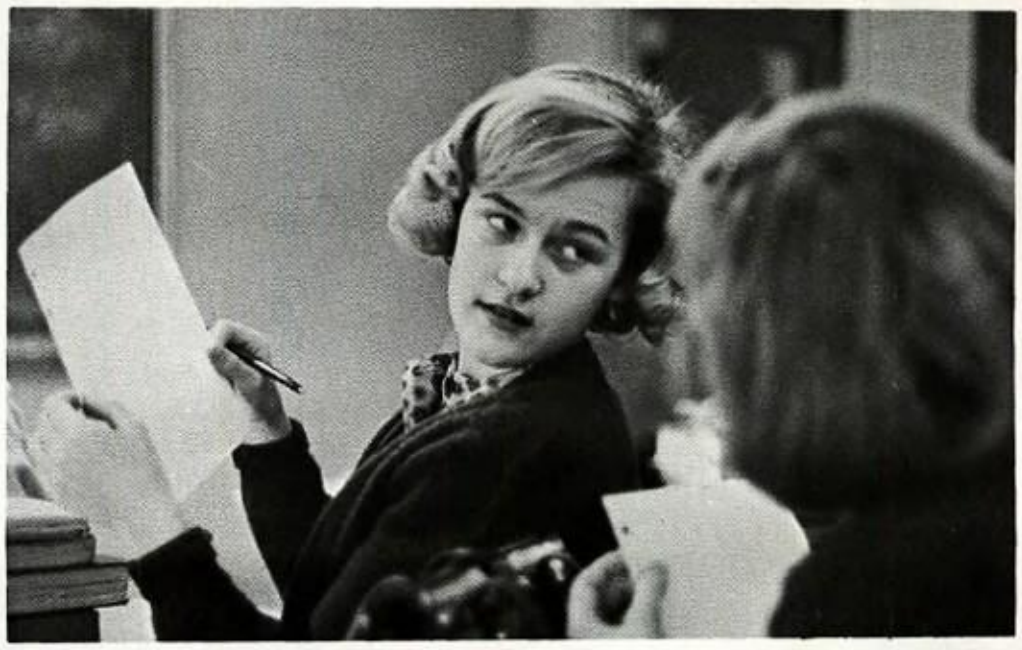
Sounds the joyous cry, "Excelsior!"

As we ever push ahead.

Higher, higher flies the falcon,

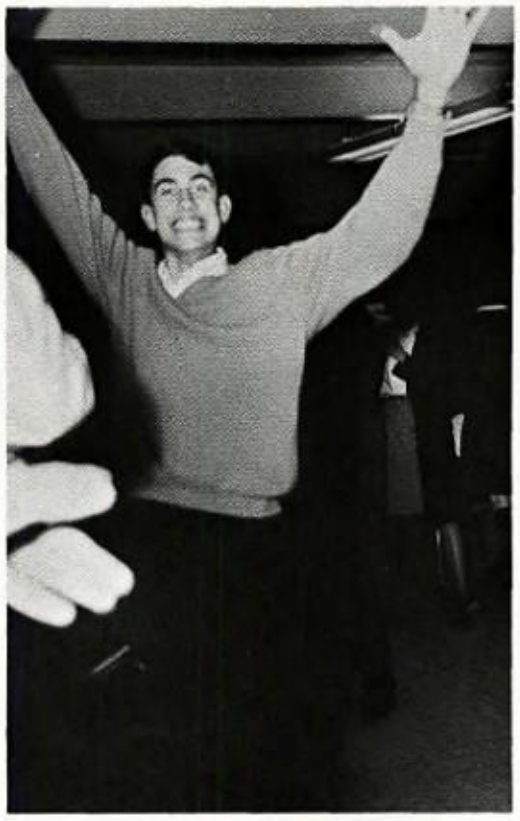
Soaring through the joyful days,

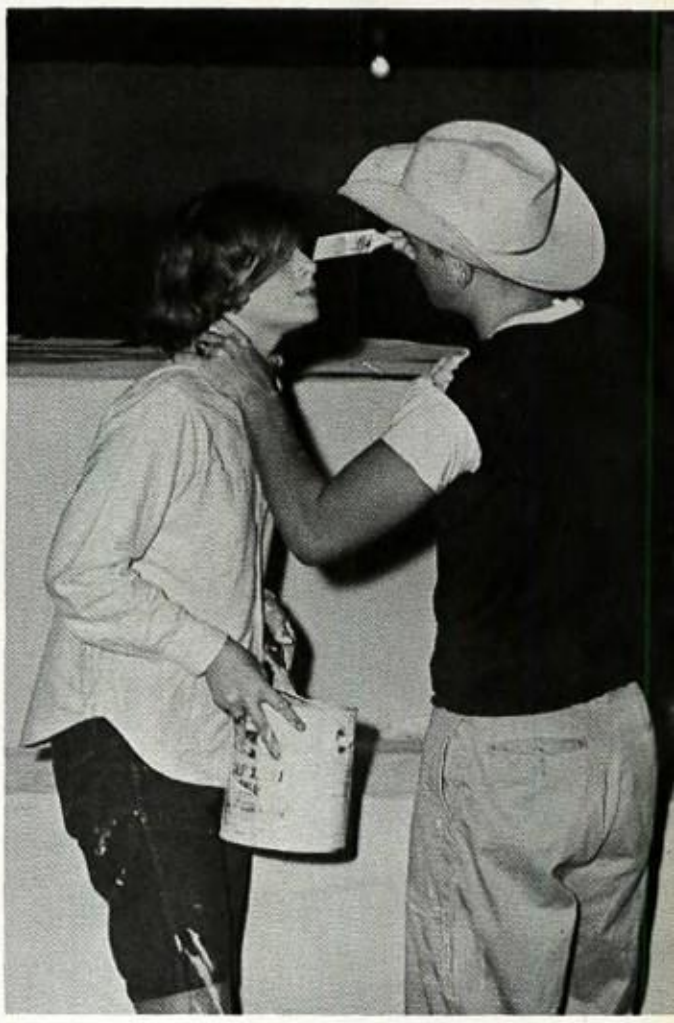


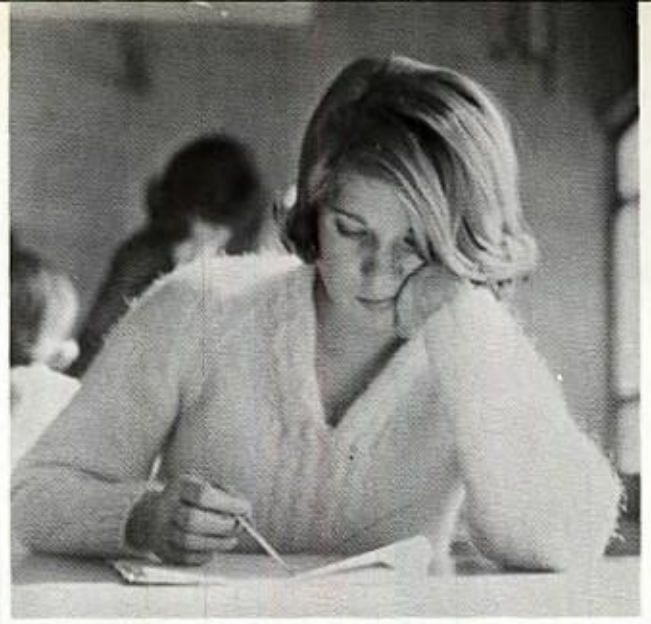


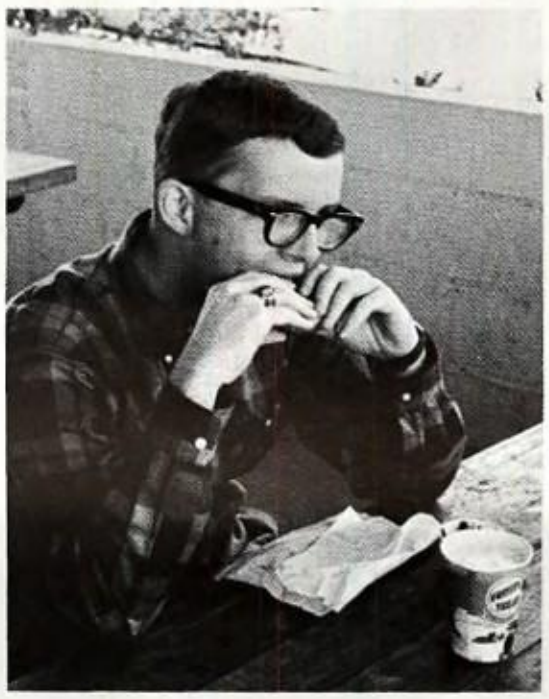
Symbol of thy inspiration

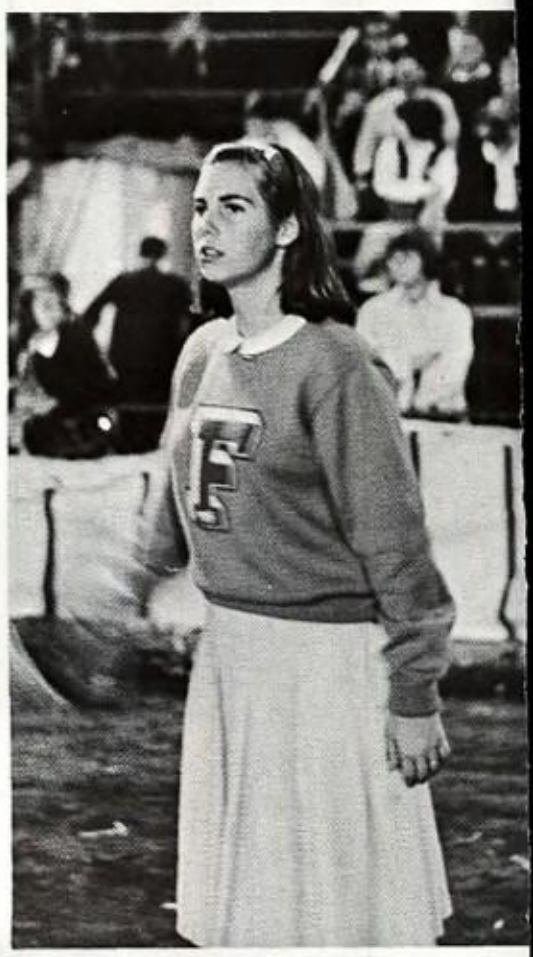
And our aims and hopes always,





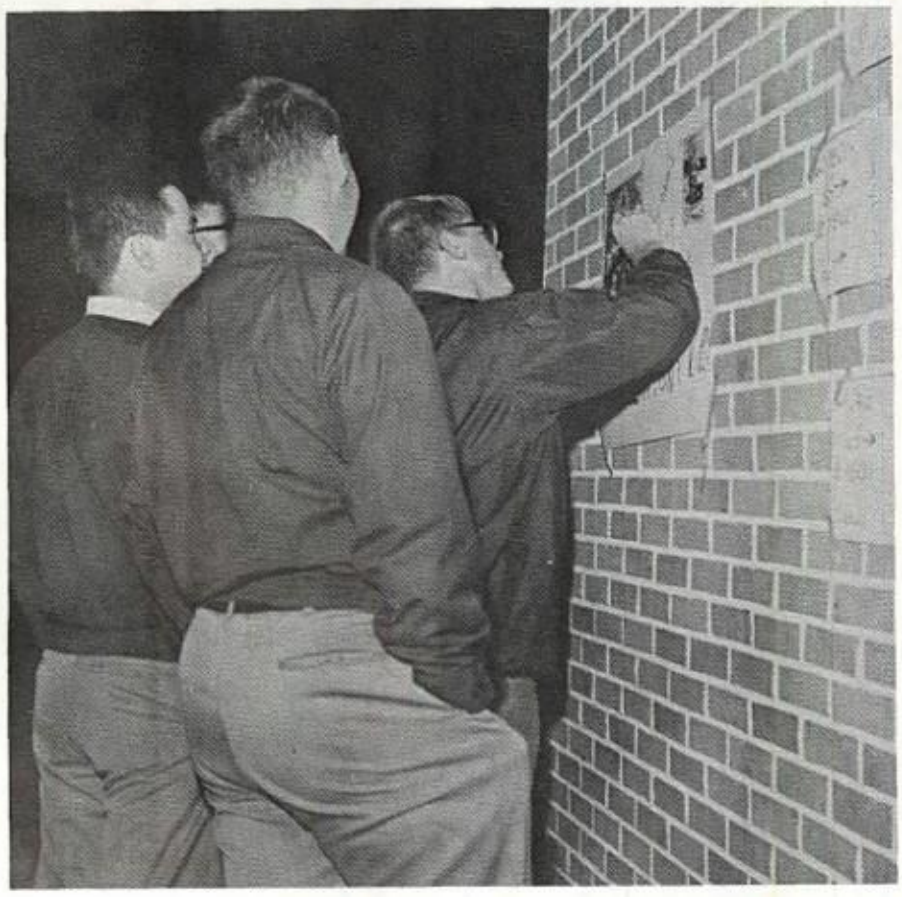


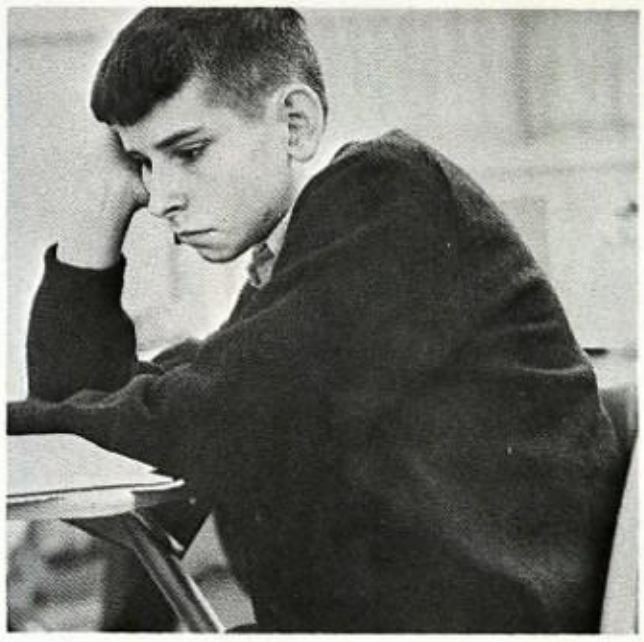


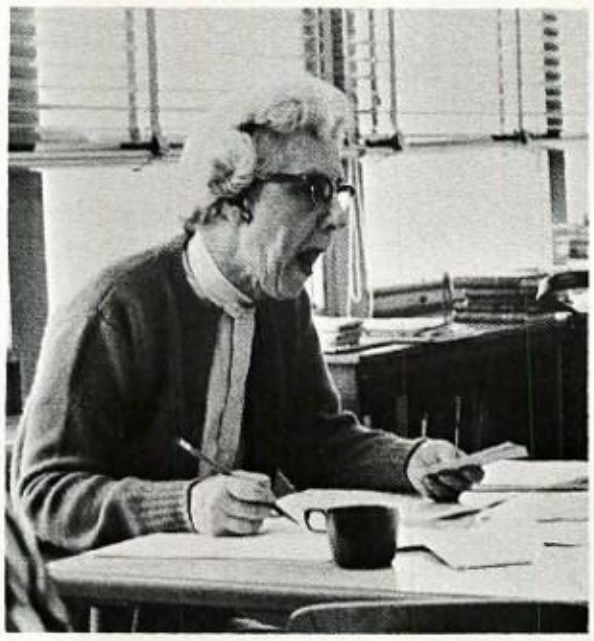


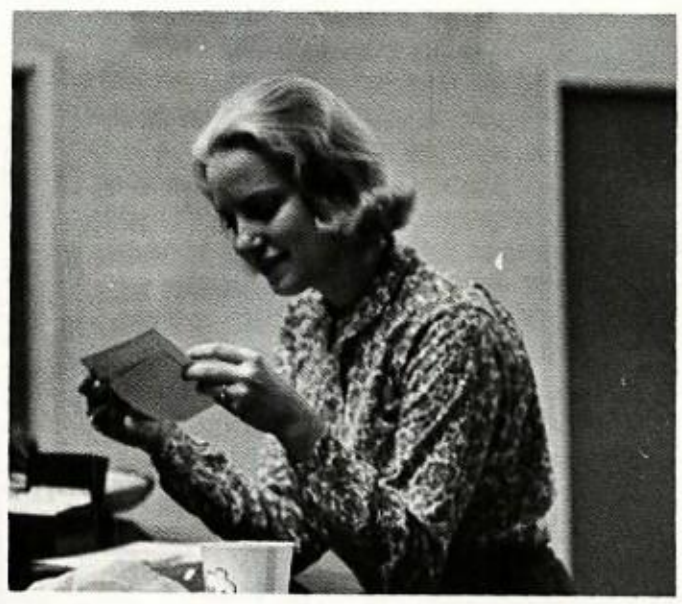
We will ever love and laud thee,

And we'll hold thy banner high,









While we cherish golden mem'ries
Of each happy year gone by.

My party may not have been the greatest, but I enjoyed it and I'm really glad that you could come. Remember all the lunch trap and cuts that flew back and forth? Really, though, you are one of the most sincere and wonderful guys at Flora, and I believe me, they are rare and cute always have a ready smile and I sure do wish you the best life here. You deserve it more than for everyone. Please never change, but has to offer, because never, never change Barry out! Ok? Ok. any boy I know. Please PLEASE!)

I'll say one thing for you, you and Harold are a mighty tough team even if you win any silver. We've gotten to know each other pretty well working at Pine Forest, so I guess golf's not all that bad. Keep the proud Falcon flying high next year and don't lose too much on the course next yer.

Good Luck, (even if you don't need it)

Hi Bobby,

All of a sudden I have become thoughtless. I just don't know what to say. Things have happened so fast between us. We've had lots of fun together.

Bobby, I don't know how I can ever thank you or repay you for all of the nice things you have done for me. I really enjoyed our dates. You were very good to me.

You deserve the very best in life. I hope all the luck and happiness in the world will come your way. I hope you get exactly what you want. (I think you know what I mean.)

So much for that!!

It seems funny that we have been right under each others noses before now. Well we did once but we didn't take advantage of it. We've had serious fights, cutting fights, letters, phone calls, visits, and dates; and they've all been fun.

I hope we can always be the best of friends. I know I'll be able to depend on you when I have a problem.

I hope your dreams and ambitions come true, especially in golf. We got to get rid of Slap-Jaw (our biggest problem) real soon.

Remember to be good and have fun this summer. But no more speeding tickets!! O.K.?? Or any other kind for that matter.

Wear that ring with pride remembering that your a mighty Falcon!!

Love always,

Teresa

P.S. (Y)—o!
